ALERT FORMOSA FOR RED INVASION

Tornado Scare in District

Predicted severe thunderstorms, and possibly a tornado, for the Monessen district yesterday afternoon or last night did not materialize.

The alert was posted in Monessen and surrounding communities about 3 p m and cancelled shortly after 10 p m

The alert warning, passed on by police, firemen, radio and word-of-mouth, caused much concern in the district Most residents stayed in their homes rather than venture traveling outdoors

Webster and North Belle Vernon firemen were summoned by fire whistles to their stations. They stood by in case the predicted tornadoes or violent thunderstorms struck

The warning said "severe thunderstorms, accompanied by hail stones measuring one-inch in diameter and possibly isolated tornadoes are predicted for Westmoreland, Greene, Fayette Washington, Armstrong and Mercer counties"

Greenville Hit

The Greenville district was not as fortunate as the immediate area.

A severe windstorm heavily damaged two homes and uprooted trees in the community of Leech s Corners in Mercer County No injuries were reported

Residents scurried to the basements of their homes as a "big dark cloud" cut a 100 yard swath through the community.

The residents said the cloud did not have the funnel shape of a tornado A warning of the possibility of a tornado in Western Pennsylvania had been issued by the Pittsburgh Weather Bureau, but its observers also said the storm lacked the features of a tornado

The windstorm tore apart the two-story home of Robert Piccolin and the ranch home of Merle Hite

Both families were away from home when the storm struck at about 4 30 p m A Piccolin house guest, Beverly Walters 25, of Johnstown, ran to the basement when she saw the cloud approach and escaped harm

Raymond Piccolin, said the windstorm just missed his home on property adjoining that of his brother

Mrs. Raymond Piccolin said she and her two children watched the storm approach

"First there was a dark cloud coming from the west and then one started in from the east Then they started to mix and we headed down to the cellar"

Her husband said more than 15 trees were uprooted in the yard of a farmhouse 300 yards from his property. He said another

One-third Cut in Military Manpower Offered by U. S.

By UNITED PRESS

The United States is ready to offer a cut of more than one-third in military manpower at the London disarmament conference, informed sources reported today.

U S delegate Harold E Stassen is to disclose additional details of the new American plan for disarmament when the conference resumes this morning after a four-day recess

One hour before the conference reconvenes, three opposition Laborite lawmakers planned to call on Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Commons to accept the Soviet call for an immediate end to nuclear weapons tests.

Soviets Deride Plan

Stassen began a "step-by-step" presentation of the new American disarmament proposal before the five-power U N disarmament subcommission Thursday. The commission includes representatives from the United States, Great Britain, France, Canada and Soviet Russia.

Soviet newspapers over the weekend derided as "nothing new" the proposal made by Stassen for an initial reduction in Soviet and United States armed forces to 2 500 000 men each The U S now has 2 800,000 men under arms, Soviet military strength is estimated at about 3,500 000

According to informed sources, the new American plan provides for manpower cutbacks in three stages It calls for the United States and Russia to set a ceiling of 2,500,000 men on their active duty forces as soon as a first step disarmament agreement is reached.

If progress is made on major

Police Solve Own Mystery

NEW YORK (UP)—The embarrassing mystery of who has been stealing the paychecks at Brooklyn police headquarters was listed as solved today.

During the past eight months, a series of checks, totaling $835, have been stolen in the headquarters building.

Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy's special squad took over the investigation, comparing handwriting samples with endorsements on cashed checks.

Monday, police announced the arrest of John Russo, a civilian porter at the headquarters for the past four years. He was charged with forgery and grand larceny.

Police quoted Russo as saying he lost the money on the horses.

Trucker Hurt by Barrel of Beer

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Joseph Antonelli, 27, of nearby Broughton, a truck driver was injured seriously Monday when a barrel of beer knocked him down the stairs of a taproom cellar and rolled over him

He was detained in Allegheny General Hospital with a head injury, a broken nose and head and face cuts.

Special Meeting Of Council Is Postponed Here

A special meeting of Monessen City Council scheduled for tomorrow morning has been called off, City Clerk Francis Crum announced today

Tomorrow's meeting was scheduled at the last regular meeting of Council to act on a verdict in the case of Patrolman Philip Panepinto.

The patrolman was given a hearing before Council on June 12 on charges preferred by Mayor Hugo J. Parente The charges against Panepinto were failure to make regular hourly calls and "sleeping on duty" The alleged offenses occurred on the 11 p m to 7 a m shift on May 23

Panepinto denied the "sleeping on duty" charge and partially denied the other charge

Council withheld a verdict after the hearing on June 12 on the recommendation of the Mayor who asked that Council read a transcript of the testimony prior to making a decision

Crum said he "didn't know" if the Panepinto case would be discussed at the next regular meeting on July 12.

School Board Meets

There will be a regular meeting of the Monessen School Board tonight at 8 o'clock in the superintendent's office in the high school

Nuclear Test Ban First Step

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that an East-West agreement to suspend nuclear testing might come ahead of an actual cut-off in use of fissionable materials for weapons

Dulles emphasized, however, that any agreement to suspend nuclear testing would have to be tied to a simultaneous agreement to cut off use of fissionable materials for armaments — even though implementation of this could come later.

Dulles told a news conference that suspension of testing and a parallel agreement for a future cut off of fissionable materials for war uses are part of the United States "first step" disarmament plan

Trial Inspection Zones

This plan, which is not entirely unfolded officially yet, also includes establishment of trial inspection zones, a reduction in conventional weapons, and other points which would require a formal treaty, he said.

Dulles said the plan to cut off use of fissionable materials for weapons also includes proposals to withdraw fissionable materials from war stockpiles and to begin transferring some of the materials to peaceful uses.

Dulles said he is neither discouraged nor optimistic at this point about the chances of getting an overall first step arms agreement with Russia

Short Suspension Period

He emphasized that any period agreed upon for suspending tests would be short He said this would guarantee that any failure to work out the cut-off system in fissionable materials would not give the Soviets too much of a lead if things didn't work out But he did not say how long the United States would agree to suspend tests There have been reports that this period would be for only about 10 months

Dulles said he believes it is highly unlikely that any disarmament treaty can be formulated for presentation at this Senate session

Without making any firm prediction on when a treaty might be ready, he suggested it would be at least next January before Senate approval could be sought

Young Leukemia Victim, Bruce Janus, Dies

Bruce Duane Janus, aged three years and eight months died yesterday afternoon at 3 55 at his home at 216 East Donner Ave

Little Bruce died of the dreaded leukemia disease — a cancer type disease in which the white corpuscles eat away the red corpuscles.

He had been hovering near death since his birth and was kept alive only by the generosity of people who donated blood in his behalf

Last November, Monessen residents donated 53 pints of blood in a special "Blood for Bruce Day". The blood donations then kept the little tot alive until yesterday when his tiny body could take no more blood

Surviving are his parents, Mr and Mrs. Janus, a brother, Paul Keith; maternal grandmother, Mrs Rose Dacko, of Perryopolis, R. D; his paternal grandfather, Michael Janus, of Monessen.

Friends will be received at the late home this evening after 7 o'clock.

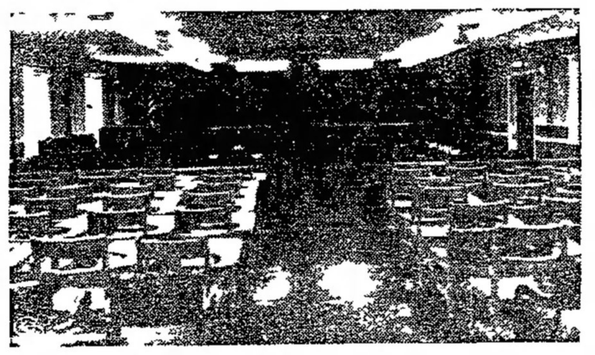
Col. John C. Nickerson, Jr. — Attorney Ray Jenkins



The trial room at the Redstone arsenal.

DRAMA AT REDSTONE ARSENAL — Reports from the U. S Army's Redstone arsenal, Huntsville, Ala, indicate a lot of the court martial of Col. John C. Nickerson, Jr, may be behind closed doors due to security, and the sensitive character of testimony. Guided missile expert Nickerson, 41, faces 18 counts of violating security for a memorandum he authored last January which was a detailed argument why the Army should have its own distance missiles. The document was circulated after Defense Secretary Charles E Wilson ordered the Air Force given control of intermediate and long-range guided missiles Defending Nickerson is Ray Jenkins.

Nickerson Cleared of Espionage, Perjury

HUNTSVILLE, Ala (UP) — The Army today dropped charges that Col. John C. Nickerson betrayed his country by spilling missile secrets and the defendant promptly pleaded guilty to 15 other counts of failing to safeguard classified matter.

The two swift developments came in the first 90 minutes of Nickerson's heralded court - martial

The defense accomplished its main goal — to have the 41-year-old career rocketeer cleared of espionage and perjury charges—when the Army withdrew its second charge containing three counts

Guilty Plea Entered

Then it came time for Nickerson to plead to the one remaining charge One of his civilian lawyers, Robert K Bell of Huntsville, announced crisply in the tiny Army courtroom

"In view of the fact that the prosecution has withdrawn charge No 2, the defendant wishes to plead guilty to charge No 1, on specifications one through 15"

Court was recessed at that point The second charge could have carried up to 16 years in prison, and $10 000 fine or both The first charge involved up to 30 years and heavy fines on all counts but Nickerson's guilty plea was expected to be a factor in the sentence

The trial was less than an hour old when the Army abruptly withdrew charge No 2

Offshore Islands Pounded

TAIPEI (UP) — Nationalist China reshuffled its military high command today and alerted its offshore island fortresses for a possible Red Chinese invasion in the wake of the heaviest Red artillery bombardment in nearly three years

The vest pocket war between the Communist and Nationalist flared anew Monday night when Communist artillery on Amoy pounded the offshore Quemoy Island group with 9,395 rounds.

The Nationalist defense ministry said "several" civilians had been killed and at least 20 others wounded It was feared military casualties would run higher.

Forces Alerted

All military forces were alerted for a possible Red attack on the offshore islands amid a growing feeling of tension.

In Taipei tonight, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek announced the biggest Nationalist military command shakeup in four years.

The shakeup had been rumored for several weeks The official reason given was a Nationalist military regulation preventing any service chief from serving more than two terms

Chiang had been kept informed of the offshore island bombardment by special war communiques

About 180 houses were leveled on little Quemoy, only three or four miles from the mainland. The overall casualties and damages were heavier than the Nationalists suffered at the height of the "little war" in September, 1954.

Air of Tension

An air of tension grew rapidly in the Formosa Straits and in Taipei itself, and all military forces were alerted for a possible Chinese Communist attack from the mainland on the offshore islands.

Press reports in Taipei said a strong Nationalist task force composed of planes and warships were ordered to patrol along the Red Chinese coast watching Red movements

The Chinese Nationalist batteries on Quemoy and Little Quemoy returned the Communist fire which broke out at dinner time Monday night There was no official reports on casualties inflicted by the Nationalists.

Big Vacation Pays Distributed Here Tomorrow

The largest vacation pay in the history of Pittsburgh Steel Co will be distributed to about 9 000 employes of the firm's Monessen and Allenport plants

A total of $2,159 622 will be given out at both plants. Monessen employes will receive $1,296,930, while $862 692 will be distributed at Allenport. These are gross figures, the company said

The average two-week vacation pay for the 9 000 workers will amount to $239, not counting deductions

In addition to the vacation pay, Monessen employes will receive a total of $1 296 930 for the regular two-week pay period tomorrow Allenport employes will receive their next regular wages Wednesday, July 3

Counting the vacation pays and Monessen's regular pay, Pittsburgh Steel tomorrow will distribute an overall total of $3,326,774.

Thorofare Market to Open Tomorrow

A new and modern Thorofare supermarket will be opened in Monessen tomorrow morning with ribbon-cutting ceremonies marking the dedication of the one-story brick structure at 1723 Grand Blvd. in the Park Plan

Monessen city and civic officials and representatives of Thorofare, a food chain operating in the Tri-State district, will take part in the opening ceremonies at 9 a. m, Walter Yuschak, manager, announced

The Adamsburg Real Estate Co, of Monessen, a subsidiary of the J. H Hillman and Sons, Co., of Pittsburgh, erected the new building and developed the area surrounding it as a parking lot at a cost of $175,000, A D. Hanna, an Adamsburg official revealed today

Construction began Sept 1, 1956 The Haury Construction Co., of Monessen, was general contractor.

With a 16 000 square foot shopping area, the new store is among the firm's largest. It is completely self-service, from the rows of canned food to modern refrigerated produce racks. The meat department is also on a serve-yourself basis.

Designed from a customer's point of view, Yuschak said conveniences run from "magic-eye" door openers for bundle-laden customers to a pleasant colon-

City to Remove Rails; Study Traffic Plans

The City of Monessen today initiated steps toward the removal of the long-abandoned streetcar rails in the downtown section.

Today the city advertised for bids to remove approximately 11,000 feet of rails on Donner Ave from Oneida to 12th streets.

Although the State Highways Department took over the maintenance of Donner Ave early last spring, it has informed the city that the state will not pay the cost of removing the rails

It did inform Council, however, that once the rails are removed, the Highways Department will move in and resurface the section from Oneida to 12th streets at the state's expense.

Council and Highways Department engineers have been holding informal meetings the past several weeks to discuss the best possible way to alleviate the traffic bottlenecks which are occurring frequently in the business section of downtown between Fourth and Eighth streets

One plan discussed called for cutting back the sidewalks in this section by one and a half foot on each side, giving three additional feet for traffic.

Another plan called for the elimination of parking on one side of the street from Fourth to Eighth streets.

Both plans, according to Mayor Hugo J. Parente, are strictly in the "very preliminary stages"

He said Council plans to meet with civic and business leaders to "discuss the best possible plan to better our business section on Donner Ave."

Cost of Living Index Climbs to All-time High

Wage Boosts For Workers on Escalator Scale

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today reported the cost of living climbed to an all-time high last May for the ninth straight month.

The Labor Department said the May consumer price index was 119.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average. The index was three-tenths of one per cent above April and 3.6 per cent higher than May, 1956.

The rise in living costs means wage boosts for nearly one million workers with "escalator" wage contracts tied to the cost of living.

Food prices spearheaded the rise in living costs with a seven-tenths of one per cent increase between April and May. Prices of fresh produce and meat went up seasonally. The price of services was up four-tenths of one per cent increase between April and May. Prices of fresh produce and meat went up seasonally. The price of services was up four-tenths of one per cent but the cost of commodities went down by the same amount, the two changes thus cancelling each other in the index.

Durable goods prices were down six-tenths of one per cent and soft goods down two-tenths of one per cent.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, predicted that food prices will rise for the next two months, then drop in August. He said durable and soft goods prices should go down while services continue to rise for the remainder of the year.

Clague said the cost of fresh fruits and vegetables is in step with last year's increases but there are "some signs" that they will hit a peak below last year's.

The department also reported that the pay after taxes and the buying power of factory workers continued a decline that began last January. He attributed this to a shortening of the work week and the rise in the cost of living between April and May of this year.

The factory worker's earnings after taxes dropped 17 cents in May to $74.47 a week for a worker with three dependents and to $67.08 a week for a worker without dependents.

East - West differences, the military manpower of the two great powers would be reduced to about 2,100,000 men in stage two, and to 1,700,000 men in stage three.

Britain, France Included

Britain and France would reduce their manpower to successive levels of 750,000, 710,000 and 650,000 men.

The first - stage maximum for other nations, not including Communist China, would be 500,000 men, with proportionate reductions later. West Germany would be the nation most directly involved in this category.

Stassen's offer was described as a "more than half way" compromise with the Soviet demands for an eventual 1,000,000 ceiling on the armed forces of the United States and Russia.

Asks Grant for Sewage Planning

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (UP)—City Council petitioned the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency Monday for a $15,000 grant for planning a new sewage system and disposal plant for six Lawrence County communities.

The proposed facilities would serve 85,000 residents in New Castle, South New Castle, Union Neshannock, Shenango and Taylor Township.

The project would be financed by a $5,250,000 non-debt public loan.

Today in Congress—

Senator Takes Swipe At Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. James O. Eastland, angered by recent Supreme Court decisions in Communist and security cases, has introduced a constitutional amendment calling for re-confirmation of the tribunal's justices every four years.

The Mississippi Democrat charged on the televised ABC program "Press Conference" Monday night that the court has "degenerated into a policy - making branch of the government" and demanded that the justices be made subject to the will of the people.

"They must either be approved by the people or by the elective representatives of the people," Eastland said.

His amendment would call for Senate approval of the justices every four years. The present nine justices would have to be reconfirmed by the Senate six months after adoption of the amendment.

Eastland is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which handles such matters.

Other congressional news:

Ricker: Sen. John W. Bricker pressed a new bid for congressional approval of his controversial proposal to curb effectiveness of international agreements as domestic law. The Ohio Republican led as the opening witness at Senate Judiciary Subcommittee hearings on the latest version of his constitutional amendment. The key clause says an international agreement other than a treaty "shall have legislative effect within the United States as a law thereof only through legislation valid in the absence of such an international agreement."

Appropriations: The House voted an extra 133 million dollars to keep the postal service running smoothly. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield had warned that it might be necessary to initiate postal cutbacks unless Congress put up an extra $149,500,000. But Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-N.J.) said Summerfield assured him the Post Office Department could continue to get along with only an additional 133 million dollars.

Inflation: Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said Congress has done much to cut President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget of almost 72 billion dollars. But he said the congressmen could have done "even better" if they had received "the cooperation of the President." Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said there isn't a government agency that couldn't stand a cut of from four to ten per cent without impairing efficiency.

FBI: Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) introduced similar bills to limit the disclosure of FBI reports in criminal trials. Their action was prompted by the recent Supreme Court decision that defense attorneys must be given access to reports to the FBI of government witnesses who testify against their clients. Administration officials claim the ruling could hamstring FBI investigations if left to stand.

Temperatures today were expected to range from the upper 70's in the western portions to the upper 80's in southeastern sections.

Some relief is in sight for Wednesday as a mass of cold air continued to move toward Pennsylvania from the west. The air mass is expected to cross the state by Wednesday, lowering temperatures.

However, the cold air will give way again to a strong flow of warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico on Thursday, causing the temperatures to again soar into the 90's.

Tonight was expected to be fair, a little cooler, and less humid for central and eastern portions. While western sections were expected to become cloudy. Low temperatures will range from the upper 50's in the west to the upper 60's in the east portions of the state.

OBITUARIES

CALVIN K. ROBERTSON

Funeral services were held this afternoon for Calvin Knox Robertson, 84, of Route 71, West Newton, who died Sunday in Frick Memorial Hospital, Mt. Pleasant.

Attorney Says He Was Hired by Hoffa to 'Spy'

WASHINGTON (UP)—New York Attorney John Cye Cheasty testified today that he was hired as a "spy" inside the Senate Labor Rackets Investigating committee by a lawyer for Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa.

Cheasty, the government's chief witness in the bribery-conspiracy trial of the Midwest Teamsters leader, testified after the defense failed in a move to suppress his testimony.

Cheasty told the court that he had been asked by Hoffa's lawyer and co-defendant, Hyman I. Fischback of Miami, to get a job on the staff of the Senate committee.

Cheasty said that Fischbach first told him that a client wanted a "field investigation" job done. Later Fischbach explained that the investigation required Cheasty to "get on the inside of the committee to feed out information."

Defense Counsel Edward Bennett Williams failed in a bid to examine Cheasty's competence as a witness in a private session before Judge Burnita S. Matthews.

Williams wanted to determine whether illegal wiretapping was used in getting evidence and whether a confidential lawyer-client relationship existed between Cheasty and Hoffa. Either of these circumstances would be basis for rejection of Cheasty's evidence.

Judge Matthews turned down the request and said the defense could raise the questions in cross-examination of Cheasty during the trial.

U. S. Prods Russia to Exchange Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has prodded Russia to agree to a regular exchange between the two nations of uncensored radio and television broadcasts.

The proposal was handed to Soviet Ambassador George N. Zaroubin by Ambassador William S. Jackes, special assistant to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for East - West exchanges. The State Department said the move was prompted by the recent appearance of Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev on an American TV program.

A memorandum given the Soviet envoy proposed "agreement in principle at an early date for the regular exchange of uncensored radio and television broadcasts." If Russia agrees, a meeting would be held to work out details by Jackes and Zaroubin.

The programming would be left up to the American radio and television networks and the state-run Soviet broadcasting system.

The memorandum said the aim of the proposed broadcasts would be to permit freer exchange of information and ideas on important world developments."

Actually, U.S. officials have been working on the idea for the past 18 months. The United States is insisting on an agreement in principle on the program first to deprive the Soviets of any opportunity for turning the plan into cold war propaganda.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the United States has specific ideas on how to carry out the exchange program and he predicted it keep them free, skidded along the ground will be worked out after Russia agrees to the and knocked out field communiprinciple.

22 Reservists Hurt When Hit By Lightning

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (UP)—Twenty-two reservists were confined to barracks for observation today after receiving apparently minor injuries when lightning hit their field training area.

The injured were treated at the post dispensary for bruises and scratches Monday night after a bolt of lightning hit near a forward observation post and another at a gun position, three miles apart.

The bolts came as the 310th Field Artillery Battalion, a Philadelphia unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard, was preparing to return to barracks under command of Lt. Col. Joseph P. Davidson.

The lightning at the 105 mm. howitzer gun emplacement hit a

NAM Opposes Bill Regulating Pensions

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) today opposed a bill designed to bring industry-run employe pension and welfare funds under federal regulation.

George T. Fonda, vice president of Weirton Steel Co. and chairman of NAM's employe health and benefits committee, said "hundreds of thousands" of plans operated by employers are working efficiently with maximum gains for beneficiaries and should not be placed under federal controls.

He said revelations of wrongdoing in administering such funds "have been confined, virtually exclusively to the plans under joint union - management administration."

"If legislative correction is necessary at this time," Fonda said, "that correction should come in the area where the abuses have been found and not through enlarging the area to include hundreds of thousands of plans which have been found, thus far, to be operating efficiently, economically and with a maximum benefit to the beneficiaries involved."

Fonda made the statements in testimony prepared for a Senate labor subcommittee. It is considering a bill by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) which would apply federal controls to funds operated by industry alone as well as to those jointly administered by management and labor.

Gromyko Blasts Statements by General Norstad

MOSCOW (UP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today denounced a recent statement by Gen. Lauris Norstad as the ravings of an aggressor and "inconsistent with the disarmament negotiations."

Gromyko, at an unprecedented early morning news conference, read a prepared statement denouncing the statement Norstad made before the Foreign Affairs Committee of the U.S. Senate.

Gromyko said Norstad's statement made it obvious the United States was using the London disarmament talks as a smoke screen to cover up a desire to continue the arms race.

He also criticized Norstad's comments before the North Atlantic Alliance in Paris where the American general is the Allied supreme commander in Europe.

Gromyko quoted Norstad's warnings that the United States could attack the Soviet Union from anywhere in the world and destroy all targets of military value in Russia and then said: "The American general clearly forgets that planes can fly in either direction, not only from the aggressor's side but also in the direction of the aggressors. It would appear that even the biggest hotheads among the NATO militarists should be clear on this point."

Charleroi Man Pleads Guilty To Forging Check

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)—William Koster, Charleroi, Pa., and Richard Stewart, 27, Newton Square, Pa., pleaded guilty today to bad check charges and were sentenced to prison terms by Judge Richard D. Laird.

Koster, accused of forging another man's name on a Treasury Department check for $119, drew a 5 year term in Western Penitentiary. He said he cashed the check at a Monessen bank last Feb. 20, and used the money to buy groceries for his wife and seven children and to purchase a tricycle for one of the kiddies.

Stewart was sentenced to 24 months in Allegheny County Workhouse for passing six bad checks on a Ligonier businessman and hotel State police said the checks totaled $116.

keyed decorating scheme planned to make the weekly shopping trip "easier on the eye."

The whole structure has been departmentalized—items are placed where shopping will be the easiest and most convenient. Similar items are placed in one area, and related departments are placed adjacent to each other.

The new store features colors developed for the Thorofare chain. The wall by the meat department is painted an eye-appealing pink and pink fluorescent lighting tubes give additional brightness. A second wall is light blue and a third a medium shade of green.

Yuschak said that about 50 persons will be employed.

Corner-to-corner large display windows make up the entrance to the building.

Although the meat department features prepackaged items, the manager said an experienced meat cutter will be on hand if the proper size or cut of meat is not available.

The completely air-conditioned store also features a line of self-service dairy products, frozen foods, seafoods and poultry. The fresh fruit and vegetable department offers items in refrigerated "iced" and "dry" cases.

Other items under the "one shopping shop" plan are housewares, and a complete supply of health and beauty aids.

Nine of the latest type conveyor checkout stands have been installed near the exits to speed customers through the lanes. The special conveyor belts stands can cut checking time in half, the manager said.

Articles are moved from the front of the stand to the register by means of the machine-driven belt, allowing a steady flow of items past the register as they are checked. A divider falls into place to allow one order to be bagged while another is being checked.

The firm has leased enough property to provide parking for 175 cars. Other area in the shopping center has space for about 100 more cars. The entire area outside the store has been blacktopped.

Race Result Brings Rioting

LONDON (UP)—Police made baton charges and firemen turned hoses on a screaming crowd of 500 persons at a London greyhound stadium Monday night when a dispute over a race verdict turned into a riot.

Police spirited Prince Bernhard of Holland out of a racecourse restaurant before he could be involved with the angry mob.

At least 14 persons were injured in the battle. Police reinforcements poured in from miles around to battle the rioters, who set fire to the Harringay Stadium grandstand, overturned a bookmakers stand and threw a fireman through a plate glass window.

Police held seven men on charges of assault this morning. Other arrests were thought likely. It was one of the worst riots in British racing history.

ERIE, Pa. (UP)—Federal mediator Grover Stainbrook will try again Wednesday to settle a strike of 1,700 production workers which has idled the Hammermill Paper Co. plant here since June 14.

Defense Gets Copy of Special Report into Turnpike Mine Fill

HARRISBURG (UP)—Prosecuting attorneys in the Pennsylvania Turnpike conspiracy trial have been ordered by the court to turn over to the defense the report of a special investigation into mine-filling operations on the Northeastern Extension.

Dauphin County Judge Homer L. Kreider, acting on a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling, ordered the Commonwealth Monday to hand over to defense attorneys for their inspection the so-called "Pierce Report," made last year at the direction of the state Justice Department.

The report of Pierce Management, Inc., Scranton, a mine consulting firm, resulted in a Justice Department request for a special grand jury inquiry into the operations of the Manu-Mine Research and Development Corp., Reading, which performed the drilling in connection with mine-filling or flushing work.

Judge Kreider cited, with reservations, the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision which forced the FBI to open its previously secret investigation files to defense attorneys.

"If the rule as announced by the Supreme Court is the rule of Pennsylvania in our state system—and we have grave doubt that it is—then we must work out some system to permit defense attorneys to inspect the Commonwealth's evidence," Kreider said.

Acceding to defense requests, the court excused the jury, cleared the courtroom and adjourned for the day, turning the courtroom over to the 13 defense lawyers for their conference on the report.

Defense attorneys were expected today to take up cross-examination of Commonwealth witnesses who participated in the drawing up of the report.

Charges Excessive Prices

James H. Pierce, head of the consulting firm, testified on the witness stand Monday only about 6 per cent of the drilling work performed by Manu-Mine was necessary to prevent subsidence of the roadway.

Pierce also said the firm charged the commission over twice the proper amount for the work. He said the total cost of constructing the Northeastern Extension was approximately one million dollars per mile, while the cost of Manu-Mine's drilling work on a 12-mile section of the road across the anthracite coal region in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties was $3,000,000 a mile.

The Pierce study, ordered by the Justice Department May 4, 1956, was submitted Aug. 3, 1956. On that day, Gov. George M. Leader, at his weekly news conference, first revealed the turnpike operations were under investigation.

Leader startled newsmen with the prediction that the investigation would be "quite an eye-opener to a lot of people," but declined at that time to pinpoint the nature of the inquiry.

On Sept. 5, at a special news conference, Leader accused Manu-Mine of attempting to "swindle" the Turnpike Commission of nearly 20 million dollars.

Church Groups Open Meetings for Merger

CLEVELAND (UP) — Representatives of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches began meetings here Monday night aimed at uniting more than two million members.

Some 900 leaders of the two denominations were on hand for the merger synod which is expected to join the groups into the United Church of Christ.

The merger, first proposed in 1940, will end 17 years of negotiation. Final approval was voted in 1949.

Merger action was delayed by a lawsuit filed in Brooklyn, N.Y. When the suit was finally dissolved in October, 1954, the executive bodies of both denominations voted to make the merger effective in 1957.

The uniting synod will elect co-presidents and co-secretaries and a central staff under the basis of union with interpretations. The so-called union will govern the new denomination until a constitution can be approved.

The two denominations differ in government and background. The Evangelical and Reformed Church has operated under a Presbyterian system of regional and national synods. The Congregational Christian Churches have been traditionally free churches, each congregation autonomous.

Lias Corporations Being Dissolved

WHEELING, W. Va. (UP)—The dissolution announcement of three Wheeling corporations of which William G. Lias is the principal stockholder has been published here. The corporations are scheduled to discontinue operations Saturday.

The firms are Laconia, Inc., Wheeling Downs, Inc., and Wheeling Downs Racing Assn., all of which have Lias listed as president.

U.S. District Judge Harry E. Watkins ordered the sale of the Corporations last month after the federal government filed a $3,280,000 back income tax charge against Lias.

Stirone Files Appeals for New Trial, Acquittal

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Appeals for a new trial and a directed verdict of acquittal were filed in Federal Court Monday for union leader Nicholas A. Stirone, convicted of extorting $31,274 from a contractor.

Stirone, head of the common laborers union in the Pittsburgh district, was found guilty by a jury last week of violating the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering Act by extorting the money from William G. Rider, a concrete contractor, under threat of labor trouble.

Defense attorneys Vincent M. Casey and Vito Rich said in the appeals the trial judge erred in the admission of certain evidence. They also stated the prosecution made inflammatory and prejudicial remarks, such as referring to Stirone as "Czar Nicholas."

Trial Judge John L. Miller was not expected to hear arguments on the appeals until late summer or early fall. Stirone faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Postal Charges Will Increase on Monday

WASHINGTON (UP)—The cost of a special delivery stamp goes up Monday from 20 cents to 30 cents. Charges for registered and insured letters and money orders also go up.

These and other boosts in special postal services, expected to hike post office revenues 28 million dollars a year, were proposed last month by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. They are designed to help cut back the Post Office Department's yearly deficit.

Summerfield invited comments by June 15 on the proposed increases. A spokesman said few letters were received. As a result the following changes will take effect July 1:

Special Delivery: Increase from 20 cents to 30 cents for items up to two pounds; similar 10-cent increases in other weight categories.

Money Orders: 5-cents increase on each order, with a boost in the minimum charge from 10 to 15 cents.

Registered Mail: Increase in the minimum fee from 40 cents to 50 cents with the rate for $1,000 liability, the present maximum, raised from $1.75 to $2. The department proposes to expand liability up to $10,000 for which the charge will be $4.25. The return receipt fee will go up from 7 to 10 cents.

Insurance Fees: Increases ranging from 5 to 10 cents on items valued about $10.

COD Service: An increase from 20 cents to 50 cents on any item which must be delivered into the hands of a specific person.

Certified Mail: Boost in service charge from 15 cents to 20 cents. Return receipt up from 7 to 10 cents. Charge for delivery to a specified person increased from 20 to 50 cents.

Special Handling: Fees for parcel post advanced to range from 25 to 50 cents. They are now 15 to 25 cents.

Periodic Correction of Mailing Lists: Increase in minimum charge from 25 cents to $1 on lists having more than 20 mailing addresses. Old charge of 1 cent per name raised to 5 cents. This is a service to businessmen and similar groups who submit mailing lists to the post office for correction.

Business Reply Cards: Increase from 3 to 4 cents with the charge of each piece of enclosed mail in business reply envelopes raised from 1 to 2 cents.

Notices Of Undeliverable Mail: Increase from 3 to 5 cents per notice for second, third and fourth classes.

Ike's Plan Spurned by Governors

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UP) — Democratic governors, today generally spurned President Eisenhower's plan for seeking a redefinition of state and federal functions as "just another study."

A few Democrats and most Republicans were enthusiastic. But even the GOP governors generally refrained from promising any massive reversal of the trend toward greater power in federal government.

The President addressed the nation's governors Monday night at a black-tie dinner in a cafeteria at a new 10 million dollar motel in this colonial capital of Virginia. His speech came at the midpoint of the 49th annual governor's conference.

Eisenhower urged the governors to join with the federal government in forming a "task force" to strengthen and preserve states' rights. The result, he said, should be a reduction in the overall tax take of the federal, state and local governments.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, the Maryland Republican, said, "I'm convinced that nothing will be done about it."

Eisenhower proposed that the governors' conference join with his administration to create a joint committee to:

"... Designate functions which the states are ready and willing to assume and finance and that are now performed or financed wholly or in part by the federal government.

"... Recommend the federal and state revenue adjustments required to enable the states to assume such functions.

"... Identify functions and responsibilities likely to require state or federal attention in the future and to recommend the level of state effort or federal effort, or both, that will be needed to assure effective action."

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, Virginia Democrat and conference chairman, commented that the speech received a favorable reaction but would say nothing further except that the proposal would go to the resolutions committee.

Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York reminded that the first Eisenhower administration created a commission to study relations between state and federal governments. He said "it would have been more helpful if President Eisenhower had made specific proposals."

Another Democrat, Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, said he had no objection to "another study" but he doubted that the governors or the two major political parties could agree on defining the roles of the state and federal governments.

"We in West Virginia will gladly go along with any such plan," said Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, a Republican.

A Real Break for Third Class Cities

ONE of the really notable achievements of the recent session of the Pennsylvania Assembly, in our opinion, was the adoption of a so-called "optional charter" law for the state's 47 third class cities, of which Monessen is one.

This legislation has been a long time coming. Ever since 1922, when the state constitution was amended to give municipalities more latitude in determining their own forms of government, efforts have been made to get a law which would permit the third class cities to take advantage of the amendment. Until the recent session, such efforts had always failed.

The new law is an excellent one. It gives each third class city the option, subject to the decision of its voters in a referendum, of three well known forms of municipal government. These are:

1. The Commission form. That is what Monessen and all the other third class cities have at the present time.

2. The Council-Manager plan. This arrangement is quite similar to that under which school districts now operate. The elected council would act as a board of directors and would appoint a non-political administrative head, usually a person professionally trained in municipal government. The manager would supervise the whole city government, subject to the policies established by the council, just as a superintendent now supervises a school system.

3. The Mayor-Council plan. This is used especially in larger cities. The elected council is a legislative body, of which the mayor is not a member. And the mayor is the responsible executive.

* * *

HOW DOES a city go about considering what form of government it wants under this new law. There are two ways the subject can be raised:

1. The voters may petition or the council may adopt an ordinance calling for the election of a charter commission. This would consist of from 7 to 15 members who would be nominated without party affiliation and elected at the same election in which the question of creating the commission is submitted.

The commission would recommend (a) that a referendum be held on the question of adopting one of the optional plans or (b) that the present form of government be retained. In other words, the real purpose of the charter commission would be educational.

2. The voters, but not the council, may bypass the charter commission and place the question of adopting one of the optional plans directly on the ballot.

* * *

WE BELIEVE the people of Monessen ought to consider this matter at the earliest possible date. The city is on the verge of one of its greatest periods of new development, and it is no more than common sense that it should take advantage of any opportunity to strengthen its governmental system.

At this point, The Daily Independent has no favorite among the three plans available under the new law. But we feel most strongly that the subject should be explored through a charter commission as the law provides.

Inflation Dope

THE PRICE of steel is about to go up again at about the same time the steelworkers receive the second of three automatic wage increases under their current three-year contract with the steel companies.

Already we are hearing the familiar arguments. The companies maintain that they cannot increase their payrolls without increasing the prices they charge for their products.

On the other side, the leaders of the United Steelworkers hold that the companies are making ample profits at present prices and can well afford to absorb the wage increases without increasing their prices.

Just where the truth lies in this argument is not easy for the average person to determine. There is plenty of "expert" testimony and probably sincere conviction on both sides.

But there can't be much argument about the fact that wage increases in basic industries which are promptly followed by price increases add up to inflation as far as the public is concerned. And regardless of whose fault it is, we still have the inflation.

A good deal of what we call our prosperity today consists of inflation, which is a little like pain-killing dope. It makes the patient feel very comfortable, but there comes a time when he shouldn't have any more of it.

Has the United States had all the inflation it ought to have?

Well, that's another question on which the experts disagree sharply. The prevailing opinion of the moment seems to be that the country is expanding so rapidly from a population standpoint that the economy has a good deal of legitimate boom built right into it.

But no responsible economist is saying that it is sound to pay ourselves more money by just putting higher price tags on everything we have to buy or want to buy. That isn't prosperity — that's inflation dope.

See 'Conflict' In Humphrey's Stock Holdings

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The law which governs the office of Secretary of the Treasury is quite clear and unequivocal that he must not let his private business get mixed up, even indirectly, with the public interest.

Mr. Pearson

The law states: "No person appointed to the office of Secretary of the Treasury or Treasurer shall directly or indirectly be concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce, or be the owner in whole or in part of any sea vessel, or the purchase by himself or another in trust for him, any public lands or other public property, or be concerned in the purchase or disposal of any."

On page 7 of the annual report of the M. A. Hanna Co., in which Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey continues to own a large bloc of stock, is a picture of one of his company's seagoing vessels. The caption beside the picture reads: "Arriving at the Philadelphia unloading docks is the Sept Iles, carrying nearly 30,000 tons of iron ore from Quebec-Labrador."

Fleet Described

On page 6 of the same report is a description of the "Hanna-operated Great Lakes fleet of ten bulk cargo vessels," together with a further description of the Hanna ocean fleet — the Californian and the Hawaiian, which are described as "converted C-4's," plus other big vessels.

The reason for the law regarding conflict of interest is obvious. The Secretary of the Treasury operates the Coast Guard, which has to do with the safety of these vessels. The C-4's, were purchased from the government. Almost everything the Secretary of the Treasury touches, from taxes to shipping, is inumately connected with American business.

The Hanna annual report goes on to tell of vast ore holdings and vast operations of "trade and commerce," in which the Secretary of the Treasury has a direct interest through the retention of his stocks in M. A. Hanna and subsidiaries.

Humphrey's Stocks Zoomed

Some senators are now concerned over this apparent conflict of interest.

A list of Humphrey stocks recently supplied the Senate Finance Committee shows that he increased his wealth tremendously by retaining his stocks. How much of this was due to over-all inflation, how much to any favoritism, direct or indirect, to his own companies is something some senators want to investigate.

At any rate, here is how Humphrey's stock zoomed in value in the last four years:

M. A. Hanna Co., the parent company of which he was president, was valued at $240,613,344 on Jan. 1, 1953, just as Humphrey took office. As of March 12, 1957, its value was $359,631,956. Increased value: $119,018,592. Humphrey owns 67,550 shares of class A and class B stock at $76 and $78, or a total of $5,179,700.

Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal — This is the biggest coal company in the world. Its value went from $126,160,704 on Jan. 1, '53, to $368,306,250 on March 12, '57. Total increase: $242,145,546. The Secretary of the Treasury owns 20,000 shares at $56.75 or $1,135,000.

National Steel Corp. is an affiliate of M. A. Hanna, and is the company which Humphrey will head when he leaves the Treasury. Its value zoomed from $374,758,710 when Humphrey took office to $484,962,000, or an increase of $110,203,290. He owns 13,200 shares at $50 or $760,000.

Hanna Coal and Ore — This is the company which controls Iron Ore of Canada and the vast Hanna ore holdings. Hanna Coal and Ore showed the greatest increase of all, jumping from $46,741,500 when Humphrey became Secretary of the Treasury to $441,416,000 on March 12 of this year. Total appreciation: $394,672,500.

Canadian Ore

Secretary Humphrey owns 12,471 shares of Hanna Coal and Ore. This is where he might be most vulnerable to criticism on the charge of mixing business profit with public interest.

On July 31, 1951, Humphrey took time off from his official duties to go to Sept Iles, Quebec, for the opening ceremonies of Iron Ore of Canada. Addressing the crowd he said: "It is a great day. It is the culmination of a dream of 12 years."

On Sept. 9, 1954 it was announced in Ottawa that Humphrey and his Canadian associate, C. D. Howe, would go to Knob Hill to open a power dam to supply power for the Hanna iron mines.

The Hanna company then began to solicit British business.

From Washington—

A New Security Plan

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The much-needed study of the government's security program is completed at last. It is long overdue, but the delay is more than made up for by the quality of the report.

The Commission on Government Security, under the leadership of its chairman, Loyd Wright, former president of the American Bar Association, its members drawn from Congress and from the executive, from inside the government and from outside, has done a superb job.

Mr. Drummond

There isn't a single proposal in it which would give aid or comfort to the disloyal.

There are many proposals in it which would protect substantially the rights of the individual.

It proposes a variety of ways to strengthen the security system not only as it affects government employes but as it affects defense plants, dock workers, passport regulations; it offers an entirely new program to increase protection for the nation's vital but vulnerable civilian air lines and airports.

Fairness Essential

It is characteristic of the Commission's clear thinking that the new provisions to safeguard the rights of individuals are viewed as a means of strengthening the security program — this on the ground that public confidence and individual confidence in the fairness of our government is absolutely essential to the good operation of any security program.

Among the many recommendations of the Commission which break new ground are these:

1. Creation of a Central Security Office to provide a substantially uniform loyalty system.

2. The Director of the Central Security Office would recruit and train qualified people to administer the loyalty program, its examiners would conduct preliminary hearings; their decisions and those of a Central Review Board would be advisory to heads of departments and agencies.

Screening Separate

3. Loyalty would be the only test for screening employes under this program. Henceforth suitability of the employe would be determined by civil service regulations and this would be separate from the loyalty screening system.

4. The same procedures for loyalty clearance will apply to applicants for government service as apply to employes. Heretofore applicants have been rejected for loyalty - security reasons without being informed of charges, without having any chance to disprove the accusations, and this often one-sided information has been made a part of the applicant's record and used as an automatic blackball against future government employment.

5. Several new protections are proposed. Charges suggesting disloyalty would be made fully available to the individual so he can have the opportunity to disprove or explain them. Except in the cases of a regularly established confidential informant engaged in intelligence work for the government whose identity may not be disclosed without compromising the national security, the accused would have the opportunity to confront and cross-examine the informer under oath or the adverse information would be discarded.

Confusion in Past

The Commission usefully points out that one of the major confusions of the past several years has been the attempt to merge loyalty and suitability into one program and it concludes that the result has been a "hybrid product" which has created "bewildered security personnel employe fear and unrest, and general public criticism."

Although some administration spokesmen have attempted to blur the situation, the fact is that the vast majority of removals of employes which have been reported as "security risk removals," have in fact been "suitability" removals handled under the normal civil service procedures. The Commission concludes that in the comparatively few remaining cases where "loyalty" was involved, only a loyalty finding — not a personal suitability finding — was needed.

Henceforth, under the Commission plan, no employe or applicant, rejected because of unsuitability, would be stigmatized as a "security risk."

I believe that Congress ought not to consider its work done until it acts painstakingly upon the recommendations of this Commission whose work and credentials are so superior.

National Group Forms To Battle Inflation

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)— Young Robert M. White II took bows today around the square in Mexico, Mo. So did L. M. (Mitch) White.

Young Bob and old Mitch are co-editors and co-publishers of the Mexico, Mo., Ledger, one of the better small town dailies in the United States, circulation 7,000 in the lush and bountiful central part of the state.

Mr. Wilson

Mitch and Bob are father and son. They had a look last January at President Eisenhower's big spending budget and they have been noting the creeping inflation currently overrunning the United States.

Meeting in Washington today was the National Citizens Committee to Curb Inflation which was born of Mitch and Bob's contemplation of what was happening to the U.S. economy.

The committee will meet here for two days to hear a discussion of inflation and what to do about it. The speakers are big name economists, bankers and members of Congress. Assembled for the meeting here are individuals pretty well representing all parts of the United States.

Fact of Importance

The fact that the committee exists at all and is meeting here with an impressive program of speakers is a political fact of considerable importance. The meeting is further evidence that the people of the United States are beginning to get the word on inflation and what it will mean to them if it continues uncontrolled.

Fire and flood together cannot match uncontrolled inflation's ability to kill and to destroy. Out of the Whites' conviction that the inflationary trend had become dangerous came a letter signed by a score or more citizens of Mexico, Mo., addressed to the two U.S. senators from Missouri and to one or more members of the Missouri delegation in the House.

It may be significant that this substantial letter of protest, out of which grew a national organization aimed at curbing inflation and reducing government spending, came from the heart of an area known as Little Dixie. Audrain County and some adjacent counties in central Missouri are as Democratic as south Boston and almost as Southern in thought as Mississippi.

President Harry S. Truman's big spending operations did not turn a hair in Little Dixie nor did FDR's uninterrupted series of federal deficits excite protest. It is notable now, however, that the challenge to big spending comes largely from Democrats whose party so happily supported the Roosevelt-Truman habit of spending annually more than the Treasury collected in taxes.

Blamed On Policies

The fact of inflation in the United States is generally, but not wholly accepted. Some congressional Democrats contend that the steady rise in prices is caused by the administration's high interest-hard money policies.

However that may be, prices are going up. Ewan Clague told the United Press that the May figure for the cost of living probably will show another rise for the ninth month in a row. Clague is commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics which monthly computes the consumer price index. The May figure will be out Tuesday.

Moreover, government economists concede that prices will continue to rise moderately through the rest of 1957. The monthly rises have been small, but they add up. They could—and may—add up in time to the place where a 10 cent cigar would cost $100, assuming that the cigar dealer would sell one at all for mere money, even U.S. money.

The Woman's View—

300,000 Children in The U.S. Need Homes

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP) —Each year approximately 93,000 children are adopted in this country. But another 300,000 need homes.

Carl and Helen Doss, parents of a dozen adopted children, call these 300,000 the "lost" — because they are passed from one unwilling relative to another or placed in private schools, boarded out and forgotten.

Gay Pauley

"We cannot be smug and say that our present-day haphazard methods and laws of child care are adequate so long as they allow such tragedies to beset the lives of our future citizens," said the couple.

Their estimate of the number of children in need of parents is given in their new book, "If You Adopt A Child," Doss, a Methodist minister, and his wife took into their home 12 children considered "unadoptable" at the time, primarily because of mixed race. The children now are six to 16 years of age and according to their parents have "brought the greatest of all gifts—love."

Book Tells Of Family

They told of their own family in an earlier book.

The Dosses, who live with their brood in Redlands, Calif., call their new work the only complete adoption guide yet to appear. Certainly the two cover the field—from the history of adoption in this country (Massachusetts was the first state to permit legal adoption with a law passed in 1851) to advice on where to turn if you want to adopt ("The agency nearest your home").

They believe an adopted child should know his heritage "and he should be told as soon as he is old enough to understand." Close friends and relatives also should know.

"But otherwise," said the couple, "There is no more reason to go around declaring that your child is adopted than there is for you to go around declaring to all and sundry that you are married, a Democrat and member of the Masonic Lodge."

Call For Improvement

They called for improvement and uniformity of adoption regulations in the United States and Canada. "Else," they said, "black markets will continue to flourish. With the lack of national laws, there are no ways to stop interstate racketeering of babies and no penalties for engaging in it."

An adopted child's longing and need for love is greater than that of another child, said the Dosses, "because he has been separated from his natural mother, sometimes again from his boarding mother or mothers."

They told of one 7-year-old boy who had been shifted from boarding home to boarding home, waiting for permanent parents. The social worker told him about a Mr. and Mrs. Jones who wanted to adopt him...and explained to him what the term meant.

The next day the worker took the small boy to the Jones home to be introduced. The child gravely shook hands with his new father and then turned to the women who was to be his new mother. "This is mama Jones," said the worker. "Not mama Jones," said the boy, as he put his arms around her neck, "but mama for always."

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Andrew Curtis
(Annette Paulina)

Annette Paulina Becomes Bride of Ronald A. Curtis

In St. Michael Church of Donora with the Rev. Michael Durisin officiating Annette Paulina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paulina, of Perryopolis, became the bride of Ronald Andrew Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Curtis, of Donora.

Their wedding was an event of Saturday, June 15, and the double ring vows were read at a nuptial high mass. White gladiolus and ferns decorated the church and white crash lined the church aisle. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white embroidered edged tulle reembroidered with seed pearls and sequins. It was worn over tulle and bride's blue shimmering satin and fashioned with a sabrina neckline of reembroidered tulle and long sleeves, which ended in an embroidered edge over the hand. The full skirt was fashioned with a detachable full train of pure silk bombazine pleated at the waistline. Her fingertip veil of sheer illusion was held to a queen's crown of pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stefanotis.

Sister Is Attendant

Maid of honor was Sonja Paulina, sister of the bride, who wore a white fine tricot chiffon and tulle gown over lilac satin, styled with a sabrina neckline, full skirt emphasized with a back bustle and floor length streamers. She wore a picture hat of lilac chiffon, white mitts and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaids were Madaline Curtis, sister of the bridegroom, and Janice Bowers, of Belle Vernon. They wore gowns, hats and mitts styled identically to the maid of honor only in violet. Their bouquets were yellow carnations.

Flower Girl

The flower girl was Cecilia Curtis, of Avella, who wore a white chiffon dress over orchid taffeta and net styled with a sabrina neckline, puffed sleeves and an orchid sash with long streamers. She wore a halo of white carnations and carried an arrangement of yellow carnations.

Best man was the uncle of the bridegroom, Steve Hladonik, of Pittsburgh and ushers were Thomas Stunda and Richard Henderson, of Donora.

The mother of the bride selected a beige lace dress with white accessories and a yellow corsage and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink sheer silk with pink accessories and corsage.

Reception Held

A family dinner was served at the American Croatian Hall in Donora and later 275 relatives and friends were received by the couple.

When the couple left for a short honeymoon the bride was wearing a white silk sheath ensemble with orchid accessories. Her wedding gown was designed and made by her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis will reside in Baltimore, Md., where Mr. Curtis is employed by Koppers Co. He is a graduate of Donora High School and attended California State Teachers College and is employed in the operating engineering department. His bride was graduated from Brownsville High School.

Local People Attend Concert In New Castle

Mrs. Fred Campana and daughter, Gini, Mrs. Louis Campana, Helen Jones, of Monessen and Mrs. Nicholas Campana, of Monongahela, were in New Castle on Friday evening to attend a piano concert presented by Vienna Prioletti.

Miss Prioletti, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Prioletti, of New Castle, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Louis Campana and niece of Mrs. Fred Campana and Mrs. Nicholas Campana. Her mother is the former Vienna Campana, of Monessen.

Miss Prioletti studied at the Rochester Conservatory of Music and is now a teacher at Duke University, Durham, N. C. She plans to study at Chautauqua this summer.

Her concert was presented as a benefit for St. James Church of New Castle in the George Washington Junior High School. It was well attended and well received.

Persico-Angeline Wedding Saturday

Solemnized at St. Cajetan R. C. Church on Saturday, June 22, at 10 o'clock in the morning was the marriage of Betty Elaine Persico and Romeo Angeline. The Rev Nunzio Pirulli officiated at the nuptial high mass.

Serving as altar boys were two cousins of the bride, Carl Santoro, of Monaca and Joseph Persico, of Monessen. The bride placed a bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Mother and was presented with a statue, after she repeated her vows, by the Young Ladies Sodality of the Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Persico, of 1034 Dennis Ave. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Angeline, of 925 Schoonmaker Ave.

For the ceremony the church altar was decorated with white gladiolus and carnations and the aisle used by the bridal party was lined with white crash. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride wore a gown styled with a molded bodice of hand clipped Chantilly lace with a ruffled nylon net skirt. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her chapel length veil was held to a matching cap headpiece and her only jewelry was pearl earrings. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with white orchids.

Carol Santoro, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Betty Gush, of Glassport and Ilene Persico, of Monessen, cousins of the bride. The maid of honor wore a gown of turquoise organdy and net marked with a frontal floral spray. It was styled strapless with a matching stole and fitted bodice. She wore a small beaded hat to match with a brief veil and carried a red carnation bouquet. The bridesmaids were similarly attired only in a viola shade.

There was a flower girl, Kathy Angeline, niece of the bridegroom and a ring bearer, Larry Persico, brother of the bride. Kathy wore a turquoise gown and carried a basket of red carnations.

Frank Bruni, of California, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were John Klipnick, of Rostraver Township and Michael Kuvinka, friends of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Persico wore an orchid lace dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother wore blue lace with navy accessories and a carnation corsage. The bride's two grandmother's were present. Mrs. Anna Gush wore navy blue, white accessories and white corsage and Mrs. Noncenzo Persico also wore navy with a white corsage.

A 2 o'clock dinner was served at Twin Coaches and at 7 o'clock there was a reception at the New Italian Hall. Guests attended from Detroit, Dravosburg, Glassport, Monaca, McKeesport, Mercer, California and Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Angeline left for Canada, and will reside in their newly furnished apartment, Schoonmaker Ave on their return.

The bride was graduated from Monessen High School and was employed in the office of the G. C. Murphy Co. Her husband is a Monessen graduate and is employed at Pittsburgh Steel Co.

At the rehearsal on Friday evening the bride and groom presented gifts to their attendants.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong and family, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Thomas Gardner, of Milwaukee, Wis., have returned to their homes after being here for several days due to the death of their grandmother, the late Mrs. Barbara Kichinko. Mrs. Gardner made the trip by plane. She and Mrs. Armstrong are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Chesmar.

Brian Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams, of Aliquippa, has returned home after spending the past few days visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brightwell, and other relatives and friends in Fayette City. He spent the weekend with his uncle and aunt, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Brightwell, in Sutersville.

The Band-Orchestra Parents Association will hold a bake sale on Friday at 10 a. m. at Murphy's. Mrs. Gene Farnsworth and Mrs. George Cvetan will be co-chairmen assisted by Mrs. John Dzyak, Mrs. Alvin Roberts, Mrs. Sam Wanzilak, Mrs. Mary Daniele, Mrs. William Yagodich, Mrs. Louis Coccari, Mrs. Helen Bender, Mrs. Milan Bezuska and Mrs. Michael Kunsa.

A picnic planned for tomorrow for the St. Nicholas Ukrainian Sunday School children has been cancelled due to the death of Bruce Janus. It will be rescheduled at a later date.

Joyce Bachinski, Nancy Bachovchin, Ellen Barton and Don Corbett, young people of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, are spending this week at Camp Lutherlyn at Prospect.

Mrs. Josephine DuJardin, of 454 Knox Ave., is a patient in St. Francis Hospital and her condition is improved. Her room number is 60 Annex.

The choir of Trinity Episcopal Church will have rehearsal this evening at 6:30 in the church.

C-M Hospital Auxiliary in June Session

The Charleroi-Monessen Hospital Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon in the hospital conference room and planned for a summer card party and for the beginning of the fall activities. Mrs. T. C. Montgomery, president, was in charge.

Preceding the session there was a session for the executive board of the gift shop committee with Mrs. Russell Stone in charge. At the auxiliary session Mrs. Stone gave a successful gift shop report.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Henry Rossomme was another auxiliary member, who earned a gold stripe for 200 hours of service at the hospital.

The women initialed hospital linens while they discussed business and after a refreshment intermission there were three committee meetings. Mrs. Montgomery conducted an executive committee meeting, Mrs. Ralph Evans was in charge of a meeting of the social committee and Mrs. Alex Irvine and Mrs. Walter Spragg, a ways and means committee session.

The social committee discussed plans for the fall luncheon being planned for Sept. 24. I will be a "grab bag" affair and will be held in the Donora Elks Club.

The ways and means committee discussed plans for a summer card party to be held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Spragg. The date and full details will be decided upon at a meeting of this committee on July 8, at the Spragg home at 1 o'clock.

When the auxiliary convenes for the first regular meeting in the fall, there will be a social committee meeting at 12:15 before the auxiliary session.

The Jolly Girls Are Entertained By Mrs. Kerns

The Jolly Girls were entertained at the home of Mrs. Forrest Kerns, of Chestnut St., Friday evening and Mrs. Goff Corrick, prsident, was in charge.

Officers for the next year were elected, Mrs. Robert Huscroft, president; Mrs. A. C. Laneve, vice president; Mrs. George Wiles, treasurer; Mrs. George Nader, secretary and Mrs. Earl Husher, press corespondent.

Cards were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Corrick and Mrs. Laneve.

Luncheon was served by the hostess, who was also the winner of the Jolly Girl prize. She was assisted by her two daughters Donna and Glenda.

The next meeting will be at City Park in the form of a covered dish.

I'M AN INDIAN — The Indian theme is being used again this week at the Day Camp at Monessen City Park. This period is being devoted to Brownie activities. Red Worrell Back Home Again

Robert (Red) Worrell, after spending two and a half weeks in North Carolina, has decided to play football nearer home after all. The much-celebrated Centerville High product agreed to terms with North Carolina University last month. He took his wife and ten-week old daughter south where he had a construction job waiting for him during the summer months. However the Worrells (both mom and dad are in their teens) soon became homesick. Even after some fatherly advice from Tarheel Coach Jim Tatum, the Worrells decided to return home. "They were swell to us at North Carolina, but we just didn't want to be so far away from our parents and friends," explained Red.

* * *

Incidentally Worrell is the type of kid who finds it hard to say no. A nice young man, he was practically stampeded into the North Carolina offer, which reportedly included an apartment for his family . . . Where will Red go now? A good bet is Penn State, if the Nittany Lion biggies still want him. At any rate, Red plans to go somewhere near his home . . . Joe Bozik, a member of the Donora CIO team in the Mon Valley League, slapped the ball at a .318 clip for Lafayette College the past season. He's also the school's standout quarterback.

* * *

Redstone Looking for Grid Foe

Redstone High is still looking for a football foe to fill the Sept. 20 date in the upcoming schedule. . . By the way, several district schools are having trouble completing their football cards. That's in sharp contrast to the Monessen situation. The Greyhounds are booked up through 1960 . . . Fran Boniar, former all-around athlete at South Union High school, is currently hitting at .512 for the Reno club in the Class C California League . . . In Monongahela, no less than 160 boys signed up for the Little League Minors. They were the boys left over after the annual LL draft, indicating tremendous interest in the program.

* * *

There's no word on the weekend baseball tryout camp conducted by the Baltimore Orioles in Brownsville. Big league clubs seldom disclose the best-looking prospects until they have them signed, sealed and delivered. They don't want rival teams to step in and raid . . . Larry Van Eman, standout member of the recent McKeesport High baseball team, is hitting a neat .400 in the tough Daily News League. Another Tiger floor product, Ron Ivkovich, is batting at .318 . . . Workers have started to install a new lighting system — plus concrete stands — at historic College Field in Washington, Pa.

Long Time Between Wins for McMahan

It was a long time between wins for former Pirate pitcher Jack McMahan. He failed to earn a decision in 11 appearances for the Bucs and missed a winning verdict in 23 tries with the Kansas City Athletics. And his record this season was 0-2 with Denver, before finally earning credit for a 10-9 win over Minneapolis. Before joining Pittsburgh, Jack had been a standout relief hurler for Birmingham in the Southern Association . . . John (Crawford) Beazell, former Monongahela and Waynesburg College football star, is now executive officer of his Marine Corps unit stationed in Japan.

Big League Switches Will Affect Minors

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The minor leagues are filled with trepidation today as they await a meeting with Ford Frick at St. Louis on July 10 which unquestionably will produce the blueprints to alter the entire baseball map.

The commissioner had no actual power to summon minor league czar George Trautman and the presidents of the five top minor leagues to such a meeting. But the minors, already in a life and death struggle for survival, know it is their only hope.

Because all five top minor leagues face a tremendous and unprecedented shifting of franchises if and when the Brooklyn Dodgers go to Los Angeles and the New York Giants move to San Francisco.

A Chain Reaction

It's a chain reaction which will stretch on down throughout the minors. Starting with the Pacific Coast League, it is predicted by informed sources that the necessary realignment will affect the American Association, International League, Texas League and Southern Association.

The minor leagues are formulating plans of their own as a counter-move against the major league invasion of the West Coast. When the majors take Los Angeles and San Francisco, the PCL must find five teams—not merely two. Because of either close proximity to what will become a major league city or because of television, the PCL also figures to lose Hollywood, San Diego and Sacramento.

This leaves Seattle, Portland and Vancouver. So the PCL is casting covetous glances at Denver of the American Association, with the added possibility of picking up Spokane, Salt Lake City, Phoenix and maybe a Canadian city such as Victoria.

There's where the chain reaction sets in. Should the PCL be given Denver, the top minor league draw, the American Association also faces realignment. Minor league conversation poses the possibility of the AA taking either Oklahoma City or Tulsa from the Texas League, with the possibility that Mexico City might fill that gap or Galveston be invited to return.

The International League, meanwhile is expected to move into the act by drop[illegible], which, in addition [illegible] financial drain from a [illegible]ation standpoint is not drawing well on the road. Indications are that the International League would like to obtain Atlanta, top draw of the Southern Association. The thinking in some quarters is that Knoxville might return to the SA.

Pro Football to Open Sept. 29

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The National Football League will open its 72-game schedule Sept. 29, kicking off a season which runs through Dec. 22 and which will be followed by the championship playoff four days after Christmas.

The schedule, announced today by Commissioner Bert Bell, calls for three night games on Saturday, Oct. 5, and Saturday afternoon games on Dec. 7 and 14.

The annual Green Bay at Detroit game will be played at noon on Thanksgiving Day (Nov. 28) as customary.

All other league games will be played Sunday afternoons at the various league parks. Green Bay will play three home games at Milwaukee.

All-Wheels Carnival Begins Here Tomorrow

The city's 12th annual "All Wheels Carnival" will begin tomorrow at the Washington playground beginning at 7 p. m.

As usual Special Events Director Frederic Feldman will be in charge of the carnival which will run through July 2.

All Monessen youngsters are invited to take part. There will be prizes for both boys and girls.

Awards will go to the best decorated bikes, trikes, scooters, wagons, baby buggies and tires.

There will be field events, too, including scooter races, trike races, tire rolling, and slow races.

According to Feldman, the carnival is open to youngsters between the ages of 4 and 14. They are asked to register for the event at the playground nearest their home.

Prizes, Too

Prizes will be supplied by Monessen Vulcanizing and Retreading. Mayor Hugo Parente will present his usual treat to all participants.

The carnival will move to Jefferson on Thursday, then to Linden on Friday. The event will conclude next Tuesday at Vocational.

Activity will begin at 7 p. m. at all of those sites with the exception of Linden where the fun will begin at 2 p. m.

The City Park area will participate in the carnival at Vocational. Both the Shawnee and Iowa youngsters will compete at Linden while the Lincoln boys and girls will take part at Washington.

Mid-Season Title Race Tonight In Washington

The 50-lap mid-season championship race will be held at Washington Raceway this Tuesday night.

Ardon Downs is the first of the four Pittsburgh Racing Association tracks to hold its mid-season title run.

The usual preliminary races also are fun, starting at 8:30 p. m., and the double points on these mid-season races give the drivers a chance to climb fast in the PRA standings.

Dick Linder and Herb Scott, currently leading the PRA standings, have dominated Ardon Downs thus far with Scott taking three and Linder two feature 25-lap races. Jack Steffen took the only other '25' run there.

Linder broke the jinx at Washington last week when he won there for the first time since April 30.

IBC May Appeal Jurist's KO Ruling

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP) — Defense attorneys for the Jim Norris boxing monopoly today studied the possibilities of appealing Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan's knockout decision to the United States Supreme Court.

Norris said, "Whether we appeal or not, I intend to remain in boxing — if it's only in the Midwest."

Ryan's admittedly "drastic" decision apparently bans Norris and his partner Arthur Wirtz permanently from big-time boxing in New York.

The 13-page verdict read Monday from the bench in U.S. District Court not only dissolves the two International Boxing Clubs permanently and divorces Norris and Wirtz permanently from the Madison Square Garden Corp., but it also gives the court permanent jurisdiction over the defendants and their title-bout activities.

And one of the major reasons for the "dissolution and divorcement" in his decision was the judge's desire to restore promotional competition between the East and Midwest.

On March 8 Ryan found the Norris boxing empire guilty of monopoly in its conduct of title fights. One of the principal reasons for that verdict was the interlocking directorates of the Garden Corp., the Chicago Stadium Corp., and the IBCs of New York and Illinois. The Garden Corp., owned the IBC of N.Y., and the Stadium Corp. owned the IBC of Illinois.

Monday he ordered the two IBCs dissolved, effective next Monday as far as their functioning is concerned. On Monday the judge will give his "final judgment" containing the machinery to carry out Monday's orders.

Must Sell Stock

Norris, president of the Garden Corp. and of the Stadium Corp., and Wirtz, a director in both organizations, were ordered to dispose of their 2 million dollars' worth of stock in the Garden Corp. and resign as officers and directors. Although they must resign by July 30, they have seven years in which to dispose of their shares through a trusteeship. During that period of disposal they will receive dividends on their shares but will have no stock-voting privileges — not even by proxies.

Hawks Wallop Rockets, 19 to 3

Blackhawks stayed safely atop the Prep League standings yesterday, slamming the Rcoekts, 19-3.

It was no contest as the Hawks stroked out 19 hits. Carl Crawley led the spree with a homer and three singles.

Herb Comet pitched six hit ball and helped his own cause with a triple and two singles.

Score by innings:

Orioles Improve Player Contracts

BALTIMORE (UP) — Pitcher Billy Loes and second baseman Billy Gardner were rewarded with new contracts by the Baltimore Orioles today for their impressive showings so far this season.

Loes, an ex-Dodger who has won seven games and lost three, received a new contract calling for a $1,000 increase in salary.

Gardner, a former Giant who leads all American League lead-off hitters with 24 runs batted in, received a new contract with a $500 increase.

Sternweiss Okay After Mild Attack

NEW YORK (UP) — George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss, 40-year-old former New York Yankee infielder, was resting comfortably today at Roosevelt Hospital, where his condition was described as "satisfactory" following what was believed to be a heart attack.

Stirnweiss, who won the American League batting title in 1945 with a .309 mark, said he was feeling "fine." He said his sudden collapse Sunday might have been due to the heat.

State Checker Tourney To Begin Here July 4

Four Day Event Will Be Held At Monessen Pythian Center

There will be more than fireworks to excite the Monessen sports gentry when Independence Day rolls around next week.

The annual state checker tournament will begin on the Fourth of July at the Pythian Center.

The event — which will attract standout checker players from all over the state — will continue through July 7.

Sponsored by the Mon Valley Check Club, the four-day tourney produces the undisputed Pennsylvania champion.

Newell W. Banks, of Detroit, will officiate the event. He is the world's blindfold checker champ and eleven man ballet titlist.

Exhibitions, Too

Banks has also agreed to stage some exhibitions to keep things lively.

All of the big names in state checkers will compete in the tourney, including Herman Rudolph, of Pittsburgh, who is favored to cop top honors.

Rudolph won the Pittsburgh New Year's tournament.

Metro Haridin, of Monessen, is considered a strong darkhorse possibility.

Outstanding Players

Other outstanding state checker players who have already made reservations are Paul Howdin, Clairton; John Bickerton, West Elizabeth; Adam Wojcik, McKeesport; John R. Perry, Bethlehem, William Penn Morris, McKeesport, Pernie Moffett, Lancaster, Gilbert Raick, Philadelphia; George B. Jones, Pittsburgh, Walter Ammon, Butler; William R. Stover, New Castle and Harry Katz, West Orange, N. J.

Hotel reservations and entries for the tournament are being accepted by George Stemmler at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

The tournament will actually begin at 1 p. m. on July 4. Registration will take place at 10 a. m. that day.

PONY Tussles At Ninth Street

PONY League action will resume tonight at Ninth Street Park.

Ravens will meet the Lions while the Eagles will take on CIO.

Currently the Ravens head the PONY race by a half game. Right behind are the Lions.

That means first place will be at stake when the two contenders clash this evening.

Sportsmen Will Meet on Thursday

Both the Monessen Sportsmen's Association and Auxiliary will hold their regular business meetings on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Clubhouse.

Secretary Lee McVay said that all members are urged to attend the important meetings. Refreshments will be served by the men.

Bauer Cleared; Plans to Sue

NEW YORK (UP)—Cleared of a felonious assault charge by a grand jury, New York Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer today planned to file suit against his accuser for false arrest and malicious prosecution.

The panel refused to indict Bauer Monday on a charge he slugged Edwin Jones, a delicatessen store proprietor, during an altercation in the Copacabana night club on May 15.

Bauer immediately announced through his attorney he would hold Jones to "strict accountability" for the false arrest and added he would seek both compensatory and punitive damages.

Little Leaguers Scheduled Tonight

All four Little League games were rained out last night.

The boys will try again this evening, with twin bills scheduled at both Memorial Stadium and Memorial Annex.

At the Stadium, the National Division card will show Legion against CIO and the Lions against the Elks.

In the American Division, VFW will tackle the Ravens while Park Service will take on Page Local.

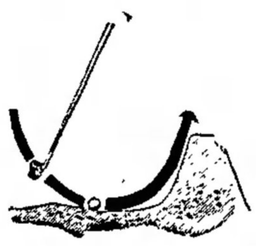
DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF



Sand Trap Slump

All golfers hit a sand slump at one time or another. A few bad sand shots, and you get the feeling that all is lost. Well, it isn't.

When this happens to you, remember that the proper stroke for playing all sand shots is a kind of a U-shaped swing — up quickly on the backswing, and through and up on the follow-through.

So imagine that you must get the ball up very quickly, even though the shot does not actually require it. Using your imagination, build a little mound about two feet high; and, with the mind's eye, put it about two feet in front of your ball. Then imagine that you have to get the ball up and over this little mound.

This may not sound too sensible, but it sure got me out of many a sand-trap slump. I'm sure it will do the same for you.

Old Satch Paige Still Winning In Minor Leagues

By UNITED PRESS

Satchel Paige, Miami's legendary old man, is starting to kick up his heels again in the International League.

Paige, who has as many pitches as he has birthdates, snapped out of his recent slump Monday night. He hurled three scoreless innings, insuring rebounding Miami's fifth successive triumph, a 4-3 decision over Toronto.

The ageless hurler's heroics gained him sweet revenge over Toronto, which had nipped him 3-2 in 10 innings on June 18. Paige's fourth victory also nudged the Marlins within a percentage point of sixth place Havana.

In the only other game played, Montreal's Rene Valdes, his sights set on a return to the parent Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched a six-hit, 6-1 victory over Richmond.

Valdes' performance broke a four-game Montreal losing streak and extended Richmond's losing streak to three. Jim Kite, who needed relief from Sonny Dixon and John James, was the losing pitcher.

A scheduled game between Columbus and Buffalo was rained out.

Donora Shuts Out Monessen, 4 to 0

Donora blanked the Monessen Ozarks, 4-0, in Mon Valley League action at Ninth Street Park last night.

John Chatlak stopped the Ozarks on three hits.

He helped his own cause with a double. Dave Russell also chipped in with a two bagger for the visitors.

Monessen's only extra base hit was a double stroked by Ron Campbell.

Bill Mitnick was tagged with the loss. He yielded a run in the sixth inning and three more in the seventh.

For five frames the two teams battled to a scoreless deadlock.

There were no other games played in the valley league last night because of rain and the threat of a serious storm.

However there were some "hot" rumors to keep the MVL scene active.

Reportedly West Newton has decided to throw in the sponge.

Last week, WN requested league officials for permission to stage all remaining games on the road. That request was granted after West Newton convinced the league that they'd stick out the season.

Trying Campaign

But it's been a trying campaign for the new league entry. After 16 games, West Newton is still looking for its first win. A situation like that is enough to discourage any ball club.

Another MVL team — seventh place Van Voorhis — is also reportedly seeking league assistance.

The Vans started the season with a talent-laden lineup. Since then, more and more players have dropped off. Last week, the Vans had to scrape up nine players to avoid forfeiting a game.

Want More Time

Supposedly the Vans will ask Commissioner George Kuvinka for permission to sign a couple of more players to fill out their roster. The player deadline passed more than a week ago.

One MVL game is on tap tonight. Perryopolis will go to Charleroi.

Tomorrow four games are scheduled. Monessen will travel to Van Voorhis, Fayette City will appear at Donora, Perryopolis will trek to New Eagle and West Newton will show at Charleroi, maybe.

Pirates Take on Chicago Today

CHICAGO (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, feeling better after their first free day in nearly a month, meet the Chicago Cubs today in the first game of a four-game series.

Bob Friend (4-7) will start for the Pirates and Bob Rush (1-6) for the Cubs.

The teams play a doubleheader Wednesday and a single game Thursday.

Manager Bobby Bragan left the Pirate players to themselves Monday to let them enjoy a day of loafing—their first since May 27. He did not even order any batting instruction as he took off for Pittsburgh to visit his family and confer with Buc officials.

Bragan was to return in time for today's game.

Kid Bassey Wins Featherweight Boxing Crown

PARIS (UP)—Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria planned a world tour today to defend his newly-won world featherweight title against all comers.

He became the first Nigerian world champion Monday night by stopping Frenchman Cherif Hamia of Algeria in the 10th round, after climbing twice off the canvas himself, before 18,000 at Palais des Sports.

They fought for the 126-pound crown left vacant by American Sandy Saddler's retirement last March because of an eye injury.

Manager George Biddles said today, "We have offers for fights in so many countries, we are planning a world tour—after Bassey takes a holiday with his young wife."

Twenty-five-year-old Hogan weighed 124½ pounds to Hamia's 125¾. Hamia, European champion and top contender, was favored at 7-5 over Bassey, British Empire champ and winner of an elimination tourney.

Bassey, floored twice in the second round and almost out on his feet, came on to weaken the speedy Frenchman with a body attack and then batter him into bloody helplessness in the 10th round.

After two minutes of the 10th Referee Rene Scheman stopped the bout because Hamia no longer could hold up his gloves and because he was bleeding from both brows, the nose and mouth.

Penn State Star Signs to Pitch For Cleveland

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today the signing of Ed Drapcho of Penn State University, a hot-shot left-hander regarded as one of the two best pitchers in collegiate baseball.

The Indians said the 21-year-old Drapcho will report to Reading, Pa., of the Class A Eastern League.

Drapcho, a native of Clarence, Pa., won 29 and lost three in three seasons of collegiate competition. His earned run record was 1.30, one of the best ever recorded by a collegian.

A Cleveland spokesman said Drapcho resisted efforts of major league scouts for three years because he preferred to finish his college education. He is the third college All-American to be signed by the Indians in the past few weeks.

Tri-County Loop Meets Tomorrow

Kerwin Defeats Tony Di Biase.

NEW YORK (UP) — Gale Kerwin, the Canadian welterweight whose booming left hook stopped Tony DiBiase Monday night, will get another TV fight at St. Nicholas Arena, July 22.

Lanky Kerwin, a former bread salesman of Ottawa, Ont., will meet Frank Ippolito of New York, who recently lost a split decision to unbeaten Stefan Redi of Germany.

Kerwin, now fighting out of Valley Stream, N.Y., won an upset technical knockout over DiBiase of Astoria, N.Y., at 1:21 of the fifth round at St. Nick's Monday night. It was Tony's first kayo defeat.

The Canadian, 22, weighed 142¾; DiBiase, 21, scaled 147½.

Richards Makes Baltimore Respectable, Says Stengel

By MILTON RICHMAN

Casey Stengel describes Baltimore Manager Paul Richards as a "juggling genius," and praise from Caesar is praise indeed.

"That man Richards has taken a bunch of hand-me-offs and made them into a downright respectable ball club," Stengel says.

Richards has the once-downtrodden Orioles looking so respectable that they have taken 15 of their last 25 games and today are only 3½ games away from the first division.

Like Stengel says, most of the Orioles are discards from other major league clubs, and Monday night two of them, pitcher Skinny Brown and third baseman Billy Goodman, combined talents in a 6-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Brown, plucked from the minors by Richards after undistinguished showings with the White Sox and Red Sox, set the Tigers down on five hits and made liberal use of his knuckle ball in striking out six batters.

Phils, Redlegs Advance

Goodman, hitting a cool .343 since being obtained from Boston 10 days ago, contributed a two-run homer and a single in Baltimore's 12-hit attack that sent Duke Maas down to his fifth defeat.

The victory was the Orioles' fifth in their last seven games.

Brooklyn crushed St. Louis, 10-3, and Philadelphia mauled Milwaukee, 10-4, in the only other major league games scheduled Monday night.

The defeat handed them by the Dodgers cut the Cardinals' lead in the National League to half a game over the idle Redlegs, who moved into second place as the Braves dropped to third.

St. Louis led 2-1 until Brooklyn chased Sam Jones with a six-run rally in the seventh inning. Pee-Wee Reese and Carl Furillo each contributed two-run doubles in the big inning. Duke Snider slammed a pair of homers for the Dodgers.

Veterans Take Lead in Voting For All-Stars

NEW YORK (UP)—George Kell of Baltimore and Alvin Dark of St. Louis, a pair of veteran infielders, jumped into the lead at their positions today in the All-Star Game balloting.

Kell took over the lead for third base on the American League team from Reno Bertoia of Detroit, 19,874 votes to 19,599, according to tabulators in Commissioner Ford Frick's office, while Dark went ahead of Cincinnati's Roy McMillan in the battle for the National League's starting shortstop berth, 20,738 votes to 20,591.

Closes Thursday

Voting for the All-Star teams closes midnight Thursday. Eight starting positions on each team are chosen by the fans' votes, with the pitchers and reserves selected by the rival managers, Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walt Alston of the Dodgers.

Ted Williams of the Red Sox, who fell behind Mickey Mantle of the Yankees temporarily as the No. 1 vote-getter in both leagues, once again moved ahead of all candidates with 61,610 votes. Mantle had 60,497, and Stan Musial of the Cardinals was the National League leader with 55,380.

AL Leaders

The AL leaders were Vic Wertz of the Indians at first base; Nellie Fox of the White Sox at second; Keil at third; Harvey Kuenn of Detroit at shortstop; Williams, left field; Mantle, center field; Al Kaline of Detroit in right, and Yogi Berra of the Yankees, catcher.

Golf Pro Quits After Conviction

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (UP) — Anthony Conn resigned Monday as manager of the Sylvan Heights municipal golf course because of "unpleasantness" following his conviction on a charge of receiving stolen golf clubs.

Mayor Edward A. DeCarbo said he regretted Conn's decision to quit, effective July 15. Conn said he would seek a new trial to clear himself of the charge on which he was convicted last week.

Rocco Torsello was named to succeed him in the Sylvan Heights post.

Feller Suggests Five Year Limit On Reserve Clause

WASHINGTON (UP)—Bob Feller, who pitched for the Cleveland Indians for his entire 20-year baseball career, proposed today that a player become a free agent allowed to dicker with any team after he spends five years in the big leagues.

Feller, now president of the Major League Baseball Players Assn., was scheduled to outline his views to a House Judiciary subcommittee studying whether baseball should remain immune from anti-trust laws.

Feller and another of baseball's all-time greats, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, were slated to testify following Warren Giles and William Harridge, presidents of the National and American leagues, respectively.

Both Harridge and Giles were expected to oppose vigorously any time limit on the operation of the reserve clause, as did baseball Commissioner Ford Frick last week.

Big Scramble

Frick pictured a "chaotic scramble for player talent" if the clause were wiped out.

One of baseball's officialdom Monday advocated a six-year limit on the reserve clause. This suggestion came to C. Leo de Orsey, a director of the Washington Senators.

De Orsey said the average life of a major leaguer is less than five years and "there is no need of keeping him chained for life." However, De Orsey said nothing should prevent a club from entering a long-term contract for a period beyond six years.

Begin Work on Big New 'Lake' at Erie

The Pennsylvania Game Commission announced today that construction of the 200-acre Siegel Marsh Dam will begin tomorrow.

This water area will be another in the chain of shallow lakes the wildlife agency has established in northwestern Pennsylvania in recent years. It will be located on State Game Lands 109 in Greene Township, Erie County, and will be fed by the waters of Leboeuf Creek.

The engineer for this project assures the Commission that the impoundment will be completed and ready for waterfowl shooting this fall. This water impoundment will be similar to the Conneaut Marsh Dam construction in Crawford County, established nearly three years ago. Judging from past experience, the new Siegel Marsh Dam will provide enjoyable hunting for thousands of waterfowl shooters.

The completed project will be another worthy contribution to the Game Commission's series of waterfowl impoundments in the area. It will tie in with Pymatuning Lake and the Conneaut Marsh chain of lakes.

Planned Year Ago

The announcement that this waterfowl lake was planned was made exactly one year ago, on September 6, 1956. Governor George M. Leader, members of the Game Commission, leading sportsmen, and officials of the Commonwealth attended dedication ceremonies at the spot where the dam breast construction is now about to start.

Inasmuch as Pennsylvania is not blessed with numerous natural lakes and marshes, impoundments such as the one at Siegel Marsh provide the nesting, resting, and feeding requisites of waterfowl.

Sportsmen, conservationists and nature lovers will welcome this lake because it will provide the requisites which will bring additional ducks and geese to the area for hunting, photographing or simply viewing.

Fur Season Views—

Following customary procedure the State Game Commission will meet Saturday, June 29, with representatives of organizations and agencies qualified to offer views on game and fur seasons and bag limits for the hunting license year beginning September 1.

The meeting will be held at 9 a. m., in Public Utility Commission Hearing Room No. 1, on the ground floor of the North Office Building, Harrisburg.

Representatives invited will be from sportsmen's organizations, state and national forest officials. The Pennsylvania Trappers Association, The Penn State University, the chairman of appropriate committees in the State Legislature, and others.

Recommendations submitted in writing, and discussed, by these spokesmen will be considered, along with those of Game Commission personnel, when the Commission sets the 1957 seasons and bag limits at its meeting July 1.

Duck Problems—

Three pairs of domestic mallard ducks have attempted to nest in Car Jarrett's back yard in McConnellsburg since early March.

Says the Fulton County Game Protector: "The nests of all three were destroyed every time they started to lay. Tiring of this I trapped three opossums, 'pinched' a raccoon's toes in a trap and shot seven crows in the area. This put the hens in business. It is a near miracle that game birds are able to produce any broods at all in the wild, considering the many predators that destroy nests."

Connellsville Deer—

Game Protector Alex Zivos is of the opinion Fayette County has a female deer that is an individualist.

He says: "A doe was driven by dogs from her natural, mountain haunts into the city of Connellsville this spring. Taking refuge in a small woodlot within the city limits she gave birth to twin fawns. Perhaps this wild mother was trying to be different, wanted her offspring's birth certificate to read, 'Born in the city of Connellsville, in 1957'."

Belle Vernon Man Leaves for Italy

Rocco Petitto, of Broad Ave. and his nephew, Amedio Spina, of Windsor, Canada, have gone to Italy to spend the next two months on a tour and visiting with relatives.

They plan to visit with Mr. Petitto's sister, who is Mr. Spina's mother. It will be the first reunion for brother and sister in more than 50 years. Spina has not seen his mother for about eight years.

Mrs. Susan Lynch has returned to her home on Wood St. after visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lynch, of Levittown.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Michener, of Speers Hill, have been in Kent, Ohio, for several days due to the death of the former's father, Earl E. Michener.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, of Baltimore, Md., are visiting with Ethel Coughenour and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Randall of Speer street.

Guy Bradleys Honored Here On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradley, of 115 Vine St. received about 100 relatives and friends informally at open house on Sunday afternoon in honor of their golden wedding anniversary, which was June 19. The Bradleys, who have lived here for their entire married life, had guests from area towns and from Uniontown, Mt. Morris, Bethlehem, Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Sharon.

The home throughout was decorated with floral arrangements in white and gold, which were sent to the couple by relatives and friends.

The table, where refreshments were served was centered with a large decorated cake inscribed with the number "50" in yellow and white. On either side of the cake was a gold candelstick holding tall white tapers. Twining ivy was arranged around the cake and candles.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Ray Chester, daughter of the honored guests and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Betty Bradley, who was the wife of their son, the late Louis Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley were the recipients of many gifts.

Nancy Browneller, nurse at Allegheny General Hospital, Pittsburgh, spent the weekend at her home.

Mrs. Nancy Neil

Mrs. Nancy Neil Receives Degree

Mrs. Nancy P. Neil graduating with honors received a bachelor of science degree in elementary education at commencement ceremonies at California State Teachers College.

During her three years of college Mrs. Neil participated in the Mixed Chorus, Women's Glee Club, Monocal, Traveling Women's Council and Gamma Phi Chi. She was also elected to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society.

Mrs. Neil is the wife of Carl Lee Neil and the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Pore, of 215 Henry St.

She was graduated from Bellmar High School with the class of 1954.

Many Activities At Playground

Paige Grant and Jody Catrino, supervisors at the North Belle Vernon playground on the school grounds have announced the first special activity of the season for the children, who use the grounds.

On Thursday of this week during the day and evening hours there will be a checker tournament for young people between 7 and 15 years of age. Prizes will be awarded the winners and play will be arranged according to age groups.

Another activity for which plans are underway is the bicycle parade, which is scheduled for Wednesday, July 3, at 2 p. m. Prizes will be awarded for outstanding entries.

Frank Longs Honor Guests At 50th Anniversary Party

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Long were honored at a reception at the Memorial Hall, Monongahela recently in observance of the golden anniversary of their marriage.

The Longs reside at 315½ West Main St. Monongahela and are the parents of five children, Gladys L. Summer, of Finleyville; Kenneth G. Long, of Clifton, N. J.; J. Frank Long, Jr., and Martha L. Kinder, of Monongahela and Marjorie L. Johnston, of Belle Vernon. All were in attendance with their families. The couple has 13 grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Long greeted their guests while seated on a love seat at the entrance to the hall and Mrs. Long wore a yellow rose corsage with her blue lace dress.

A buffet luncheon was served to approximately 200 relatives and friends from a table laid with white linen and decorated with greens. A large wedding cake flanked by yellow roses and tall lighted tapers formed the centerpiece.

The gift table was centered with an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums, which were a gift of A. R. Mitchell, who served the Longs as best man at their wedding. Nora V. Gault, of Alexandria, who served as bridesmaid, was unable to be present due to ill health.

Musical selection was presented by the Trutones, a poem was read to the Longs by their son, Kenneth and a resume of their lives together was read by their son-in-law, Thomas Johnston, of Belle Vernon.

A mock wedding was staged as the program highlight.

Pictures were taken throughout the affair.

Local Persons At Wedding

Mrs. Sam Orlando and daughter, Leona, of Speer street, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Damian Conforti in Wilkinsburg and while there attended the wedding of Mrs. Orlando's nephew, Paul Palumbo, of Pittsburgh and Suzanne Dawes of Dayton, O.

The wedding took place at the Mother of Good Counsel R. C. Church and was followed by a reception at the Pittsburgh Athletic Club.

Visiting with Mrs. Orlando on Friday was another nephew, Ralph Gambardedella of Port Chester, N. Y.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Marion Presbyterian Church will meet on Wednesday evening in the church social rooms.

Turf Writer Dies

NEW YORK — Evan B. Shipman, 53, a turf writer for the Daily Racing Form and the Morning Telegraph and an authority on horse breeding, died Monday.

Rail Removal Is Completed in Uptown Borough

The removal of the old street car rails on the North Belle Vernon streets has been completed and the detours are lifted. The project began on May 27 on Broad Ave. at the Belle Vernon Cemetery and since that time parts of Broad Ave. have been blocked off.

Last week the final section of track at Grant St. and Broad Ave. was removed and on Friday and Saturday the last concrete was laid. Yesterday the detour was lifted. The work was done by the Charleroi Scrap Iron Co.

In the Belle Vernon borough the detour is still on and traffic can not go down the hill from the Post Office. The work is moving along quickly on Main St., where rails are also being removed by the same company.

Don McClintock Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McClintock, of Fayette Rd., Lynnwood, entertained at a dinner party on Sunday in honor of their son, Donald, who was observing his 21st birthday anniversary.

A decorated birthday cake centered the table and covers were laid for Mrs. Sadie McClintock, paternal grandmother of the guest of honor and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ella Leonard, Mrs. Allen Novak and daughters, Carol Ann and Judy, of Connellsville, Mr. and Mrs. William Watson and daughter, Mary Ellen Dunbar, the guest of honor and his parents.

Donald was presented with many gifts.

Brownie Troops in Day Camp Activities

Girls of Belle Vernon Brownie Troops 25 and 26 are taking part in the Day Camp activities at Monessen City Park this week. The program is under the direction of the Monessen-Belle Vernon Area Council.

Camp activities started yesterday morning and will continue all week ending on Friday evening with a campfire program. The girls will go to the park at noon that day instead of the usual morning hour and they will then remain for the evening program.

Mrs. Olga Miller and Mrs. Sue Ringstad, leaders of these two troops are serving as unit leaders.

Burglary Suspect Admits Holdups

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Donald Kent, 22, was arrested by two detectives Monday night as he allegedly cased a downtown candy shop where a police stake-out was in progress.

Booked on a robbery charge, Kent admitted four recent candy store holdups, the detectives said.

The unemployed Kent told officers he wanted money "to get married." The total loot from the robberies was $125.

Kent was arrested as he walked past a candy shop several times, looking inside each time. He carried a paper sack concealing a whisk broom and held it so it resembled a revolver barrel, detectives said.

Laugh and Run

CHICAGO (UP) — Hat designer Yvonne Verdun says it's okay for men to laugh at women's hats. "If a hat doesn't fit a woman's personality, she looks funny, so why shouldn't a man laugh? Especially if he can outrun the woman."

Dam Construction Starts Tomorrow

HARRISBURG (UP)—Construction of the 200-acre Siegel Marsh Dam begins Wednesday in Greene Twp., Erie County, to add another chain in the link of shallow lakes for waterfowl in the state.

The state Game Commission said the project would form a shallow lake from waters of Le-boeuf Creek to form nesting, resting and feeding facilities for waterfowl. The commission said the dam would join Pymatuning Lake and the Conneaut Marsh chain of lakes in a series of waterfowl impoundments in the area.

The commission said the project will be completed and ready for waterfowl shooting in the fall.

The hurricane season in the United States runs from June through November.

Bible School Program Held at Church

The Daily Vacation Bible School of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church held its closing program in the Parish House Friday evening.

The program opened with the entire group of students marching into the auditorium and singing the theme song, "I'm Walking With My Saviour". Following the invocation by the Rev. John Schneidmiller, salutes were given to the American and Christian flags.

Each class had a part in the program. The nursery department opened the formal program with a story with puppets. Mrs. Margie Tarr was the story-teller with her pupils seated on a "story rug". This segment was concluded with a prayer song.

The beginners shared the stage with the nursery group to form a rhythm band, playing three songs. The song, "In God's Book" opened the part of the program by the beginners. A flannelgraph story was read by Mrs. Barbara Schneidmiller, teacher, with the class placing the figures on the board. A group of songs ended this part of the program.

Story time by the third grade class was next on the program. Scott Taylor, James Wachs and Earl Crossland each had a story to present, and were assisted by Bonnie Kay Lesniak. A flannelgraph, "Noah and the Ark," was read by Linda Hostnick, who was assisted by Ronald Ulander. The group recited the Beatitudes for their memory work.

The junior department was next on the program, opening with the group singing, "Keep Me Walking in the Spirit." As their memory work they gave the Apostles' Creed. An exercise, "The Gospel Shoe", using the flannelboard had Richard Crossland as leader, Leslie Board as soul, John Gibola as faith, Wayne Urinsco as prayer, William Soyka as testimony, and Ronald Boes as Bible study.

A song by a quartet of Junior girls was next. The members of this group were Helen Kelly, Georgeen Smith, Roberta Everett and Karen McMinn. The final part of the junior program was an exercise, "The Bible Shoe Bag". Those having parts were John Tully, Betty Morgan, Bruce Striker, Joseph Lucas, Karol Zippay, Sharon Morlan, Carol Hostnick, Kenneth Ulander, Wesley Palmer and Karl Kargle. They were assisted by Richard Brinker and Grover Murdock.

Second grade sang a song, "Noah and the Ark", with motions. They also recited the 100th Psalm.

The first grade students sang the song, "Sailing", followed by the 23rd Psalm, and another song, "Can It Be."

The theme song and benediction concluded the program. Display tables were arranged so that the students could exhibit their handwork and workbooks.

A social hour followed in the dining room of the church with the Good Samaritan Sunday School Class in charge of arrangements.

Many Attend Lutheran Camp

Lutherlyn Campers from West Newton include the following: Joyce Ann Kohley, Anna Mary Martz, Betty Neth, Jacqueline Urinsco, Sally Younkin, Nancy Kelly, and Donna Pregrad.

Gene Lenk is a camp counsellor this week.

Circle in Meeting

The World Friendship Circle of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at 8 p. m. in the parish house. Mrs. Wanda Calhoun will be the leader with the topic, "People Do Starve for Books."

GIRARD APPEAL — U. S. Attorney Oliver Gasch announces he will recommend appeal from the ruling by Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy that under the Constitution, Army Specialist William S. Girard may not be surrendered to Japan for trial in the killing of a Japanese woman on a rifle range. The U. S. Supreme Court is now studying the appeal.

More Airplane Crash Casualties

By UNITED PRESS

A veteran ship's captain who turned his hand to flying and two Detroit residents were killed in separate plane crashes Monday.

Their deaths brought to 23 the number of persons killed in a rash of airplane accidents during the past two days. Seven other fliers were missing.

Authorities today sought possible survivors in the crash of two Navy twin-engine attack planes which collided and went down in the Atlantic near Norfolk, Va. The planes carried four crewmen.

The crash occurred Monday as the two AJ Savage attack bombers were returning to Norfolk Naval Air Base from a routine training flight. Witnesses said they saw no parachutes.

Coast Guard, Navy and civilian boats and helicopters and other planes joined in the search. The names of the plane's occupants were not immediately released by the Navy.

In the Southwest, about 25 planes engaged in an air search for a missing light plane carrying three Texans. The plane disappeared Sunday en route from Albuquerque, N.M., to Fort Worth, Tex.

Killed when his plane crashed in the fog at Mitchell Field in Milwaukee, Wis., was Capt. Magnus Johnson, 60, a Great Lakes freighter captain for more than 30 years.

Two Detroit men were killed in a fiery crash of their single-engine private plane near the Ohio-Michigan border. The victims were Ralph Dean Fagg, 51, Detroit, president of the Kraft Welding Co., and Lyle Hutton, 40, one of his salesman and pilot of the plane.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the crash occurred when Fagg tried to make an emergency landing at Toledo National Airport. The plane lost a wing while banking for a turn and it crashed in flames into a barn.

Earlier, 14 persons were killed in the crash of a Western Airlines plane near Port Hardy, B.C. A tailfin wedge left in position on takeoff was blamed for the disaster Sunday.

Couple Killed in Collision of Autos

CLARION, Pa. (UP)—Theodore Fuller, 70, and his wife, Eva, of Wellsboro RD 3, Tioga County were killed Monday in a collision of two automobiles at an intersection in nearby Shippenville.

The couple had picked up their grandson, Mark Stewart, 11, at his home in New Castle and were returning to their farm where the boy was to spend the summer.

Young Mark and the driver of the other auto, Elwin Minnick, 32, of Sligo, Clarion County, were not injured.

Johnstown Firm Is Fined $10,000

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Structures Inc., a Johnstown steel fabricating firm, was fined $10,000 in Federal Court Monday for violating the Fair Labor Standards Act.

However, Judge Joseph P. Willson ruled only $500 of the fine need be paid if the company made good in one year the $5,000 it owed its workers in overtime wages.

Webster Bible Class Has Final Closing Program

The Daily Vacation Bible School of Webster presented a program following the closing of a two-week class. Attendance averaged 91 students.

The program opened with prayers by Madge Hamilton and group singing of "Faith of Our Fathers".

The Beginners Class, taught by Dora Ritchie, Marie Lenzi and Carol Maurer, had an enrollment of 20. The theme was "Learning God's Way" The students sang "Jesus Loves Me", "Deep and Wide" and "The Foolish Man and the Wise Man". They also recited Bible verses from memory. Their rhythm band played.

The Primary Class has 31 students and was taught by Kathryn Jugan, June Cuppies and Ruth Sarber. The class theme was "Bible Boats". Armenia Huebner was announcer. The class sang "Sailing", after which the story of Noah's Ark was told by Elaine Bryce. Esther Harvey sang "Can It Be" and the class "Wonders of Our Land". Memory Bible verses were recited. Handwork of the class included hats and collars, which were worn during the program, fish nets, docks, boats and Noah's Ark.

The Junior Group, taught by Louise Nason, Elizabeth Cryce and Margaret Riedel, had an enrollment of 25. The class theme was "Christian Walk and Talk" The class sang "There's a Welcome Here", "Walking with Jesus and "Step by Step". The offering was taken by the boy students while the girls sang "When We Reach the Glory Land". Following memory Bible verses, handwork was shown. The project included shoe bags and plaques on "Seven League Boots of Faith".

The Intermediate Group had 12 enrollees and was taught by Madge Hamilton Mary Colosina and Bertha Leyda. The theme was "Parables Jesus Told". The group sang "What are You", dramatized the parable "The Unforgiving Servant" and concluded the program by singing "If You Know the Lord". The handwork included plaques inscribed "Faith Comes by Hearing".

The Rev J. W Shell closed the program, after which those present visited the Sunday School rooms to view the handwork.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Echart and children, David, Linda, Cathy and Randy, of Sweeney Plan, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Peroney and sons, Bruce and Brad, of Lynnwood, attended a birthday supper for Van McWreathe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McWreathe, of Huston, Sunday. Research Chemist Is Killed in Truck-Car Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — A research chemist at Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, was killed and another injured Monday night when a tractor-trailer crashed into their automobile on Route 22 near Export, north of here.

John G. Cashell 34, of Mount Lebanon, a Pittsburgh suburb, was dead on arrival at Westmoreland Hospital here He was a passenger in a car driven by Theodore LeLoup, 37, of Bridgeville, Allegheny County, who was admitted to the hospital in fair condition

A Mellon Institute spokesman said Cashell had been doing research under a Syntron Company fellowship headed by LeLoup

State police said the tractor-trailer, driven by James Castania of Johnstown, was passing another car when it collided with LeLoup's auto

Castania told troopers the car he was passing pulled over towards his vehicle, forcing it into the other lane. He was released on $1 500 bond pending outcome of a coroner's inquest.

The fatality was the fourth in Westmoreland County since Saturday and the 27th of the year

Alcoholism Claims Nearly 5 Million Victims in The U. S.

(This is the first in a series of dispatches on where we stand in the fight against alcoholism. It reports on the growing incidence of this affliction, and the scope of our efforts to control it.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Alcoholism today claims nearly 5 million victims in the United States. It ranks with heart disease, cancer and mental illness as one of our four major health problems.

America is spending millions to curb the other three diseases—and is getting results. But we have yet to launch an effective national fight against alcoholism. The number of alcoholics is growing at a rate of at least 100,000 a year.

These are some of the findings of a United Press survey into the status of the long-promised "counter-attack" against alcoholism.

The survey showed heartening progress in some areas—notably in new treatment techniques which today offer the alcoholic a bright prospect of recovery if he seeks competent help.

But it also showed that only a small percentage of alcoholics are receiving the treatment they need. There are still vast gaps in our knowledge about this affliction. And, in the words of Dr. William C. Menninger, the famous psychiatrist, "only a pittance of money is being devoted to changing the picture."

The present scope of the alcoholism problem—and our comparatively feeble efforts to deal with it—are demonstrated in the following facts, supplied by the American Medical Assn., the National Institute of Mental Health, and state alcoholism agencies:

If you drink alcoholic beverages—and well over half of all American adults do—the statistical odds are one in 15 that you eventually will become an alcoholic.

Medical Science now applies the diagnosis of alcholism to any drinker who depends on alcohol to meet the ordinary demands of living and whose use of alcohol has begun to cause him serious problems at home or at work.

Alcoholism, thus defined, is increasing in all parts of the country, in all segments of society, and at all age levels from 20 to 65.

It is easy to underestimate the incidence of alcoholism because it is an "iceberg" problem—90 per cent hidden from sight. For every skid-row type of alcoholic, whose deterioration of mind and body has become too great to be disguised, there are nine "hidden alcoholics" who are in the early or middle stages of this progressive disease.

These "hidden alcoholics" are still able to keep up appearances. They continue to function, at least part time, as wives and mothers, or as business and professional men. The vast majority of them will not acknowledge, even to themselves, that they have lost control over their drinking and have become addicted to alcohol.

Cannot Be Measured

The real cost of alcoholism cannot be measured, because no one can put a price tag on a broken home, a brilliant career down the drain, a human life that turns into a nightmare of hangovers, blackouts, broken promises and uncontrollable cravings.

But a minor part of the cost can be estimated. Wage losses attributed to alcoholism amount to 432 million dollars a year. When you add in higher crime and accident rates, law enforcement and medical expenses, authorities consider 1 billion dollars a year a conservative figure for the direct, countable cost of alcoholism.

And what are we spending to combat this menace? The one-word answer suggested by the United Press survey is "peanuts."

Thirty-three states and the District of Columbia now have official alcoholism programs. Some of them exist mainly on paper. Others operate clinics and hospitals, and conduct research and public education services.

For the support of all of these programs, state legislatures last year voted a grand total of $3,823,100.

The number of patients treated by all state-supported facilities in 1956 was 22,906—or less than one out of every 200 of the nation's alcoholics.

The research picture is equally bleak. A check of major federal, state and private agencies turned up a total annual outlay of less than $700,000 for scientific studies of alcoholism. This is only one-fifth as much as the Agriculture Department spends each year for research on foot-and-mouth disease in cattle.

Midwest Farmers Say Wives Would Dislike Russia

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UP)—A group of Midwest farmers just returned from a 17-day tour of Russia have agreed their wives wouldn't like living in the Soviet—they'd have to work too hard.

The 30 farmers, who returned Monday, said the most impressive thing about Russia was not Soviet collective farming, but the hard labor put in by Russian women.

All but one of the group was from the Rockford area in north-central Illinois. They were joined by a farmer from Brodhead, Wis.

The farmers' trip was arranged by a Rockford television station, and the group paid its own way at a cost of about $1,400 to $1,800 each. All of them seemed to think it was a good investment.

The group was critical of Russian farms which they said were "inefficient."

Schools in Area Get Final Ford Payments

Sixteen privately supported universities and colleges in the Western Pennsylvania area this week will receive their second and final payment from the Ford Foundation under its program to help raise faculty salaries.

The sum represents approximately one half of a $260 million appropriation voted by the Foundation in 1955. Initial payments were made last July to 360 schools.

Each of the institutions was granted a sum approximately equal to its undergraduate instructional costs for the 1954-55 academic year. This sum will be added to the institution's endowment and the income it applied to increase faculty salaries. Each school will decide the manner of distributing increases.

Grants to colleges and universities in the Western Pennsylvania area are listed here with the final payment and the total amount given by the foundation:

Allegheny College, Meadville, $181,000 — $351,000.

Alliance College, Cambridge Springs, $26,000 — $56,000.

Carnetie Institute of Technology, $707,500 — $1,397,500.

Chatham College, $107,000 — $212,000.

Duquesne University, $281,500—$556,500.

Gannon College, Erie, $105,000—$205,000.

Geneva College, Beaver Falls, $80,000 — $155,000.

Grove City College, Grove City, $100,500 — $230,500.

Mount Mery College, $77,000—$152,000.

St. Francis College, Loretto, $44,500 — $89,000.

Seton Hill College, Greensburg, $104,000 — $198,000.

St. Vincent College, Latrobe, $91,000 — $196,000.

Thiel College, Greenville, $66,126,000

University of Pittsburgh, $652,000 — $1,617,000.

Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, $106,000 — $206,000.

Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, $56,000 — $111,000.

Westminster College, New Wilmington, $127,000 — $247,500.

Army Draft Call Cut for August

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department today cut its Army draft call for August to 11,000 men — 2,000 less than in the four preceding months.

The department said the lower draft call was made possible by increased enlistments and reenlistments.

The Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force do not intend to make draft calls through Selective Service during August.

Leader In Bill Signing

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov George M. Leader today signed into law legislation removing all restrictions on the issuance of marriage licenses to epileptics.

Previously Pennsylvania law banned a marriage license for a couple if either of the applicants was an epileptic or had been a patient of an epileptic institution within five years of the application.

In a statement issued with the bill signing, Gov. Leader said that research into the causes of epilepsy had determined that it is no longer considered a mental disease and hereditary factors can be controlled.

"For these reasons the restrictions of the issuance of marriage licenses to epileptics is not necessary and is unjust," the governor said.

Leader also signed these other measures:

Removing the 2 per cent maximum on the amount of taxes third class cities are required to pay annually to the city's police retirement association.

Permitting county boards of elections to designate a public building outside the election district as a polling place where no public building within the district is available. The building must be in a district adjacent to the original district.

To Purchase Bridge

Authorizing the Highways Department to purchase the Duquesne-Kennywood Bridge in the City of Duquesne from the Pittsburgh Railways Co. for $1.

Making a comprehensive revision of the building and loan code to permit associations to increase the amount they may lend on buildings on which they take first mortgages.

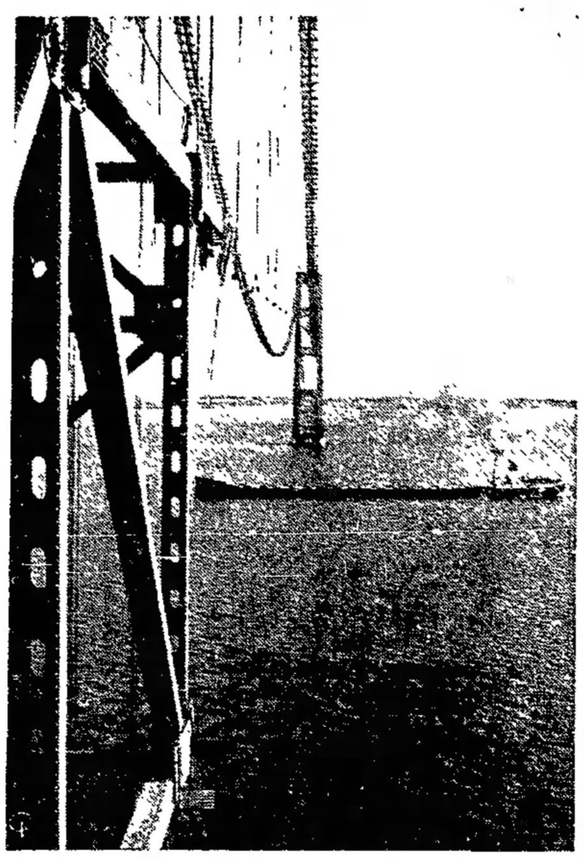
Removing a doubt in the present law on the authority of second class townships to contribute matching funds to qualify for state industrial development aid.

Providing a procedure through which an adult may make a gift of securities or money to a minor without necessity of having a guardian appointed.

Increasing the expense allowance of inspectors of the Berks County prison from $500 to $750 per year. The increase was in recognition of the higher cost of living.

Giving taxpayers the right to sue political subdivisions for refunds of taxes and license fees paid erroneously upon the failure of the subdivision to make such refunds on application.

MACKINAC SPAN IN NOVEMBER



Hanging from main cables are suspender ropes to support 86 stiffening truss sections comprising roadway. Motorists will be at about same elevation as photo. Point is St. Ignace, Michigan.

THE LONG-AWAITED bridge spanning the Straits of Mackinac and connecting the upper and lower parts of Michigan is scheduled for completion in November. It will be dedicated in July 1958, one of the world's biggest. (International)

Accountant Makes Attempt on Life

NEW YORK (UP)—A 51-year-old accountant plunged 15 stories from a financial district building Monday night and survived.

Joseph Klein was reported in critical condition today with internal injuries and a fractured right arm. A hospital spokesman said his chances for recovery were good.

Klein crashed through a skylight and corrugated metal false roof on a second - story setback which broke his fall. Police said they found Klein's wallet, watch, glasses and neatly - folded suit jacket in his 15th-story office.

His wife said Klein had been having "business troubles."

Assembly Leaves Plenty of Work

HARRISBURG (UP)—The office of Gov. George M. Leader today disclosed the amount of work the Legislature left him when it adjourned finally last week.

The governor has until July 20 to act on 420 bills left on his desk, of which 268 originated in the House and 132 in the Senate. Any measure not acted on by July 21 will automatically become law without his signature.

The 5½ month session passed 667 bills. Of these the governor has signed 228, vetoed 18 and permitted one—the reenactment of the 3 per cent sales tax—to become law without his signature.

Newspaperman Dies

CRANFORD, N.J. — Percy L. Shaw, 84, a former New York newspaperman and a writer of fiction and verse, died Sunday night after a long illness.

'MASSACRE' FAILS — Vivian Masters, 20, looks a bit grim in Newton, N. J., moments after her attempt to shoot a few cops with a 12-gauge shotgun. She pounced on, demanded that the officer on duty "get Charlie Young down here . . . I'm going to kill Young and you, and all the cops and myself." She was subdued by police who answered a radio code call to return to headquarters. The Charlie Young she was after had arrested her for driving through a stop sign.

The Rev. Charles Ribick Is Honored at Dinner Sunday

Reservations for 400 were made for the testimonial dinner honoring the Rev. Charles Ribick, pastor of St. Edward's Catholic Church, Fayette City, at Twin Coaches Sunday evening.

The dinner marked the 10th anniversary for Father Ribick as priest at the Fayette City parish. The program came as a surprise, the preparations being made in secret during the past month, with final details being arranged during the time he was in retreat at St. Vincents last week.

A high mass was observed Sunday morning. In the afternoon members of the parish and guests gathered at Twin Coaches. The tables for the occasion were decorated with yellow and white mums. Favors were a religious card with information concerning the occasion on the opposite side.

Opening the celebration was a skit, "This is Your Life." It was arranged by Mrs. Kathryn Besely and Mrs. Helen Bednar and the toastmaster was Joseph Rygiel.

The skit played up highlights in Father Ribick's career; the renovation of the Church; building of a new parish house; purchasing of new altars; purchasing and renovation of additional property and the purchasing and operating of St. Edward's park.

Father Ribick was presented with gifts from the church committee, altar boys, Rosary Society, St. Edward's Park committee, Sodality and Christian Mothers. He expressed thanks for the gifts and the cooperation he had received during his pastorate.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Joseph Altany, St. Michael's Church, Homestead. After dinner a program arranged by Dorethea Yelanich and Frances Vesely was presented. It included: two selections by a chorus composed of the children of Mary, the Junior sodality, a piano solo, P. J. Vesely; a piano duet, P. J. and Joey Vesely, and concluded with two selections by the senior sodality chorus.

Tantmaster Rygiel presented visiting priests, the very Rev. Henry Hanse and the Rev. Henry Murphy, Belle Vernon, the Rev. Martin O'Toole, St. Leonard's, Monessen; the Rev. George Jurico, St. Gabriel's, North Side, Pittsburgh; the Rev. Rudolph Holdanich, Seven Dolors, Yukon; the Rev. Andrew Suran, St Michael's Braddock; the Rev. Francis Gresko, St. Timothy, Smithton, and Rev. Altany. He then introduced the principle speaker, Father Hanse who chose for his subject "Why We Call a Priest Father."

The affair was arranged by Rygiel and Ruth McGinsky, co-chairmen, Margaret Baran, secretary and John Muzina, treasurer. Other members of the committee in addition to those previously mentioned were:

Frank Berna, Edward Sobek, John Krimpasky, Stanley Tabor, John Moskel, Edward Swintak, John Blatnik, J. C. Krivda, Ronald Basil, William Molnar, Mary Muzina, Marie Kolistchak, Rose Package, Ann Orris, Margaret Rihtarcik, Ann Blatnick, Edith Rihtarcik, Emma Yelanich, Stella Kroskie, Adeline Barch, Cora Kostalac and Mary McKee.

Council to Meet

The Fayette City Borough Council will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the Council rooms of the Borough Building. All council members are urged to attend.

Methodist Men

Ray Ermlich, program chairman for the regular monthly meeting of the Fayette City Methodist Men to be held this evening in the church dining room, has secured a film from the Bell Telephone Company.

Chester Myers, president, will be in charge.

War Crimes Prison Closed by British

WERL, Germany (UP) — The last three Nazi war criminals were released from the British war crimes prison here today and the prison closed.

The prison at one time held 249 Germans convicted by British tribunals of war crimes, including former Luftwaffe Marshal Albert Kesselring.

The United States still holds 24 war criminals in its prison at Landsberg and the French have three in Wittich Prison.

OLDSMOBILE
STYLED TO SMART EASTERN TASTES

"Lasting Value is the thing that sold me on Olds!"

GOLDEN ROCKET 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

Attendant: Well, I've looked at Olds from every angle, underneath, under the hood, and I can tell you—Olds really knows how to put 'em together!

Owner: Yes, and Olds has style that you know will stay in style. Ever check on how much more you get for an Olds trade-in?

Attendant: You get more than lots of higher priced cars bring.

Owner: Right! The way Oldsmobile value lasts makes it a smart investment. And there's lots more . . .

Attendant: Sure, take that Rocket Engine*. . . there's still nothing quite like it. I always talk it up, even though the new J-2 Rocket does mean I pump less gas.

Owner: When you add it up, and take a look at the price—it really makes sense to own an Olds.

Attendant: That's for sure. I'm driving a Golden Rocket 88, too! And more and more of my customers are going over to Oldsmobile.

*Rocket T-400 Engine, with 277 h.p., standard on all models. J-2 Rocket, with 300 h.p. and 415-lb.-ft. torque, optional at extra cost.

They were honored for outstanding achievement in development of services for the physically handicapped.

New Courses Are Available For Army Women

Two new courses have been added to the U. S. Army's technical training list from which young women with a high school diploma or the equivalent may select their choice before they enlist in the WAC, according to M-Sgt. Phil Columbus, U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Fallowfield Ave., above the Army-Navy Store in Charleroi.

They are social work and physical therapy. Other courses open to qualified young women include:

Machine accounting, stenography, chemical laboratory procedures, general drafting, construction drafting, finance procedures, dental laboratory, X-Ray specialist, medical laboratory specialist, operating room procedures, neuropsychiatric specialist, dental specialist.

Also still photography, photographic laboratory operation, cryptography, teletype operations, communication center operation, central office telephone switchboard, transportation movements, clerical procedures, typing, and publicity information specialist.

Before they are sworn in the WAC, young women receive a written guarantee that they will attend the technical course of their choice after completing basic training.

To be eligible for enlistment in the WAC, women must be between the ages of 18 and 34, single, without dependants and of fine character, Sergeant Columbus stated.

The ancient Romans were the first people to name the days of the week after gods in mythology.

Air Growth Illustrated by Inadequacy at La Guardia

By FRED T. FERGUSON

NEW YORK (UP) — The history of New York's LaGuardia Airport — now called "old and outmoded" although it is a mere stripling of 18 years — geographically illustrates the tremendous growth in air travel.

By the time LaGuardia comes of age in 1960, its original cost will have been spent a second time.

The money will have been used to enable LaGuardia to handle only a portion of the domestic air traffic passing through New York. Little more than a decade ago the field coped with almost all of the city's commercial flights, both national and international.

A 32 million dollar LaGuardia Airport rejuvenation program was announced last week by the Port Authority of New York. Along with some 10 million dollars already spent to keep the field's 550 reclaimed acres "afloat," this tops the 33 million dollars in contracts let before the airport was completed in 1939. Since its completion LaGuardia's facilities have also been repeatedly expanded.

Named After Mayor

The late Fiorello H. LaGuardia, as mayor of New York and chief booster of the original project to build the field, fought widespread opposition. It was termed "the Little Flower's big blossom," and "a dream too big to be practical."

But at its completion, some authorities were already calling the airport obsolescent.

On the airport's second birthday, Dec. 4, 1941, LaGuardia blasted critics of the airport construction plan for basing their attacks on "ignorance, selfishness and politics."

"No mayor is worth his salt unless he is able to look 5, 10, 25 years ahead and provide for the future development of the city," he asserted. But airport officials were saying the field would soon have to be enlarged by half its size.

On that second birthday, LaGuardia also told of plans to build another major New York airport. That airport became International or Idlewild Airport 7½ years later.

Greatest Air Center

LaGuardia Airport, for short and medium range domestic flights; Newark, for long and medium range domestic flights, and International, for some domestic flights and all foreign service, today make New York the greatest center of air traffic in the world.

LaGuardia, with only a portion of the national traffic, is still the second busiest airport in the United States. Chicago's Midway is the busiest.

LaGuardia handles more than five times as many passengers as it did in its first year. Some 5,400,000 persons passed through the airport last year, compared with 937,500 in 1940.

In 1956 the airport also handled 40,433,500 pounds of air mail, more than 11 times the 1940 figure. It moved 96,115,600 pounds of cargo over a hundred times the 945,000 pounds handled in 1940.

Port Authority executives said most of the 32 million dollar face lifting will be completed by 1960.

District Driver Loses License; Revoked by State

One district driver, George D. Truskey, of Fayette City, R. D. 1, had his license revoked during the week ending May 31, it was announced today by the Bureau of Highway Safety. The charge was intoxication.

Five had their licenses suspended and nine others had their privileges restored.

Suspensions were given to the following:

Failure to post security: Raymond J. Smith, of 1418 Water St., Brownsville.

Speeding, no defense submitted: Edward Dziak, of Ellsworth.

No operator's license: Carl Kuhns, of Dunlevy; Franklin Lancaster, of Vestaburg.

Failure to satisfy judgment and file proof of financial responsibility: Albert S. Sickman, of Monongahela, R. D. 1.

Restorations were made to:

Lonnie Stangroom, of Belle Vernon, R. D. 1; Carl L. Amos, of Van Voorhis; John Harrington, of 427 Liberty Ave., North Charleroi; Charles Stephen Nosalik, of 241 Mead Ave., Donora; Charles R. Pendland, of 535 Park Ave., Monongahela; Richard G. Taylor, of Victory Hill, Monongahela, R. D. 1; William Morris Hoenshel, of Smithton, R. D. 1; Larry Kubicko, of 651 S. 13th St., Monessen and Gladys Shrader, of 417 3rd St., Monessen.

Kiwanis to Give Awards

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — More than 15,000 delegates representing the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Alaska are attending the week long convention, the largest in Kiwanis history.

President Eisenhower and the new Prime Minister of Canada, John Diefenbaker, Monday cited the Kiwanis organization for outstanding leadership in service and dedication to world peace.

Eisenhower in a message, said Kiwanis members have "long demonstrated the demanding responsibilities of citizenship."

Diefenbaker's message congratulated Kiwanis members on their demonstration of international cooperation for the furtherance of world peace and maintenance of freedom.

An address Thursday by Vice President Richard M. Nixon will highlight the last day of the convention.

NAVY'S NEW TALOS SCORES A 'KILL' — The Talos, Navy's increased range, surface-to-air guided missile, hurls itself skyward in a burst of fire (left) and (right) closes in for the "kill" on a QB-17 drone plane over White Sands Proving Ground, N. M. The Talos, which has registered "kills" at 25 miles, will be added to the fleet arsenal early in 1958. The missile is guided by a mechanical "brain."

Cobra Venom Fails 'Blind' Test

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP) —The "double blind" test, which is used by scientists in seeking unchallengeable truth, has tested the poisonous venom of the cobra as a pain-reliever in human beings and found it wanting.

It also provided additional proof that there is a quirk in human nature which permits people to "give up" their plans, in order to please some person who is sympathetic, understanding and trying to do something to help them.

For some 25 years there have been reports that a very little cobra venom had the magical power to relieve pain from such undoubted pain-causers as arthritis and cancer.

Enthusiastic Reports Appear

Cobra venom was prepared in vials mixed with formic and silicic acid. Enthusiastic reports began appearingi n medical literature.

But there was no "double blind" test. That was undertaken by Drs. Leonard E. Meiselas and Austin A. Schlecker of the State University of New York Medical School in Brooklyn. They had a batch of vials prepared which were labeled "A", "B" and "C."

The "A" vials contained formic acid only, the B" vials cobra venom mixed with formic and silicic acid, and the 'C" vials contained the acids without the venom. It was impossible to tell the vials apart except by their letters.

Now the stage was prepared for the pain - suffering arthritic human beings.

Some Relief Noted

When the "double blind" was removed, it was revealed that formic acid alone and formic and silicic acid together had afforded "considerable" pain relief for as many patients as had the two combined with cobra venom—and no one has ever found either acid to be a pain reliever.

But either alone or together, they afforded "some" relief to more patients than they did when combined with cobra venom. And the same numbers of patients found no relief for their pain from any of the three.

The report of the doctors was published by the Medical Society of the State of New York. Their results, the doctors said, "emphasizes that the continued interest of the physician, the participation of the patient in a research project, and his desire to please the physician by responding to the drug may be some of the factors that are responsible for his positive reaction."

Poisons of various animals are used in treating human ailments. Rattlesnake poison is used in yellow fever work and cobra poison is a heart remedy.

They were married Dec. 14, 1935 at Cumberland, Md.

Asks Damages For Accident

For injuries alleged to have been sustained while crossing a Charleroi street, Milan Gatalica, of 111 McKean Ave., Charleroi, has filed a suit to recover more than $2,500 in the Washington County courts.

The suit was filed against Frank Haywood, of Allenport.

The accident reportedly occurred about 7:30 p. m., Nov. 26 1956.

Gatalica states that while he was walking across Second St., at the intersection of McKean Ave., he was struck by Haywood's auto, which turned left from McKean Ave. into Euclid St.

Italy Wants no Part of Any More Gangsters from America

By LARRY COLLINS

ROME (UP) — Italy wants no part of any more American gangsters and that includes Chicago's Paul "The Waiter" Ricca, now threatened with deportation from the United States.

A government official indicated today Italy is ready to fight with legal and diplomatic means the dumping of any more Italo-American gangsters on her soil.

More than 500 have been sent here since the FBI found illegal entry into the United States one of the easiest and cleanest ways to get rid of undesirables.

"We've got enough of them already," said the official. "Why don't they send us a couple of Enrico Fermis if they want to get rid of somebody?

Reared In U.S.

"These men went to the United States when they were children. America made gangsters of them, not Italy. Why shouldn't they take the responsibility? Every time we get one of these guys it means extra police, extra work, extra money to watch them."

Italy certainly does have a "who's who" of American underworld characters. First lord is Charles (Lucky) Luciano, thrown out of the United States in 1946 while still serving time on a Sing Sing sentence.

Others include Joe "Little Snowdrop" Pici of Pittsburgh, Giuseppe "Big Mike" Spinnella and "Charley the Collector" Carrollo, late of Kansas City, Ralph Liguori, one time Luciano aide, and Frank Frigenti, who complains "all I did was kill my mother-in-law and you should get a medal for shooting mothers-in-law like mine."

The police keep a day and night watch on this alumni association. Most are restricted to living in certain areas. Many have been unable to get work. What's worse, the boys don't seem to get on among themselves.

Luciano, his pals say, has "gone snob." He lives in a swank Naples penthouse with his "fiancee," pretty ex-dancer Igla Lissone.

Nothing In Common

Asked if h eplanned to meet Joe Adonis when "Gentleman Joe" sailed into Naples on deportation three years ago, Lucky snarled: "Nah, I ain't gonna meet no boat. I got nothing in common with guys like that."

Liguori modestly told Roman admirers he was a lieutenant in Luciano's army. Luciano sneered, "If I had a army, that guy would not even of been a private."

Things got so tough that a Roman priest, Father Michael Blandine, started a home for old gangsters in 1954 in a villa 30 miles from Rome. Luciano gave financial backing, explaining "I always help good charitable projects."

But Luciano is watched closely by police. He cannot leave Naples. But for several years he has lived high with no visible source of income. He told police he was winning on the horses but they insisted that he find a more respectable profession.

He finally settled on buyin ga surgical supply store. He is called in intermittently for grilling about dope running but police admit that as far as they can determine he is "clean."

Court Permits States to Sue

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Supreme Court today granted permission to Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Texas to take part in the tidelands oil lawsuit which the federal government has brought against Louisiana.

The court continued the case until next term, which begins in the fall.

A decision had been expected today on the government's suit.

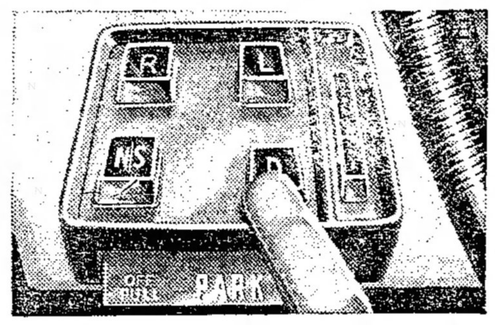
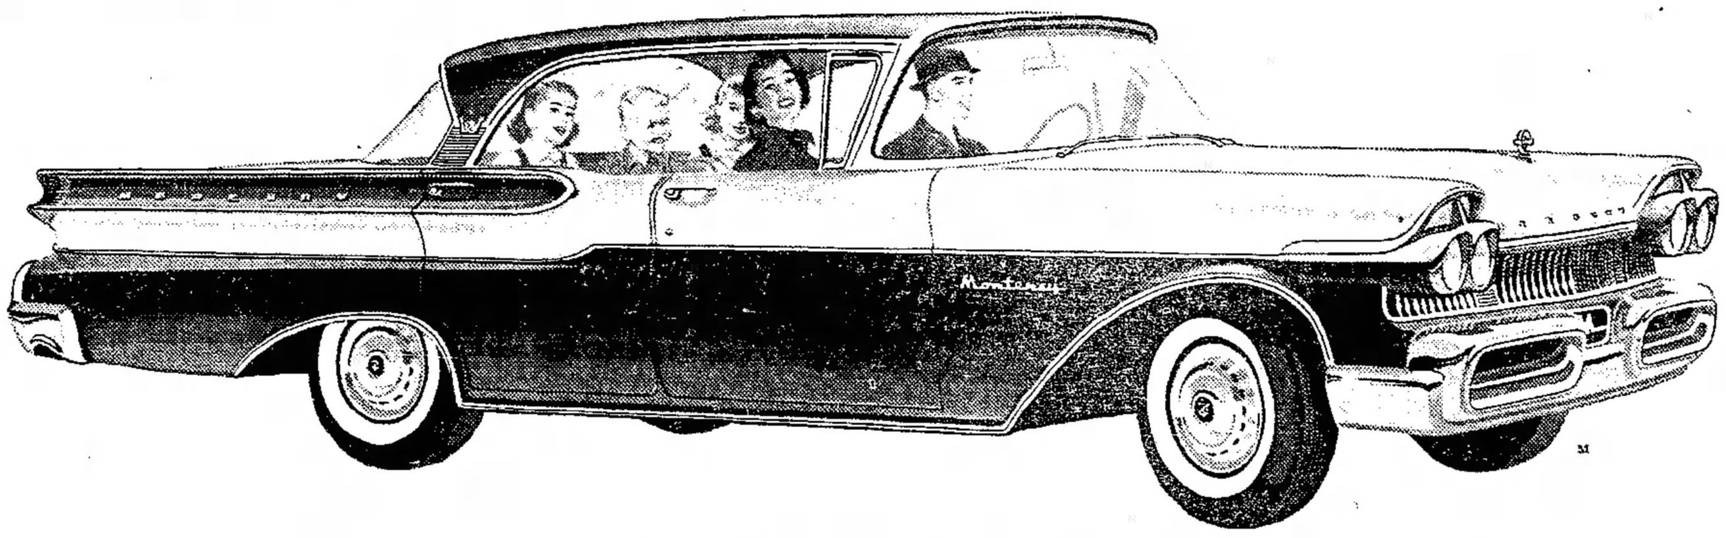
Instant obedience! Your touch is its command. Start! Neutral! Low! Drive! Reverse! Merc-O-Matic Keyboard Control does just about everything but salute. It's so advanced you can even release the Toe-Set parking brake by pushing a button.



COMMANDS THE ROAD LIKE A GENERAL

You're in charge on any road. Here's two tons of solid authority . . . slung low (less than 4¾ feet high) to take the tightest turns . . . built wide (more than 6½ feet) to hold the roughest roads . . . made mighty (up to 290 hp) so you can do the exceptional with matter-of-fact ease.



AND HAS ROOM FOR AN ARMY

No need to pull in your elbows. There's room for dad's legs, mother's hats, and for the family to grow in.

For The Big M is the widest car in its field. In fact, there's so much hip room and shoulder room, you'd have to buy one of America's 3 most expensive cars to beat Mercury's seating space.

Remember, too, that only Mercury brings you Dream-Car Design. Only Mercury has Floating Ride— the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road. And only Mercury offers you innovations like the power seat that "remembers" and a Power-Booster Fan in the Montclair series.

Best of all, Mercury prices start just above the lowest. No need to be wealthy—just wise. See for yourself—at our showroom.

Girls Are Getting Bustier

By BERNARD BRENNER

WASHINGTON (UP)—The average American girl is one inch bustier than most dress patterns give her credit for, government authorities said today.

"It's a confused situation," an Agriculture Department home economist sighed.

Most dress pattern manufacturers began using a new set of size measurements a year ago. The new patterns increased bust measurements one to two inches, but they still are generally an inch short of the standard recommended by the government.

In a "misses" size 16, for example, the bust size was increased from 34 to 36 inches in the new patterns. But the governernment's "commercial standard" recommends a 37-inch allowance for a size 16.

Three-Inch Expansion

In many sizes, federal bosom standards are a good three inches beyond the point from which pattern makers expanded one year ago.

"I don't exactly know why," the home economist said. "I guess it's a combination of rgowth and better uplift brassieres."

Mansfield Lonie, a former pattern industry executive now with the Commerce Department's commodity standards division, was more definite.

"Sizing has changed because of the uplift brassiere," he said.

Lonie said the actual measurements on which the government standards are based were made by Agriculture Department research workers in 1939 and 1940. Federal statistical experts, he said, have assured him any new mass measurement of the American female figure probably would not show any significant changes in the most popular dress sizes.

Changes Too Great

Major mail order houses, he said, adopted federal bosom measurements for their garments about four years ago. But they found last years changes too great to make in a single jump, he said.

The Agriculture Department said the new patterns narrow former gaps between hip and bust measurements.

"These changes," it said, "appear to be in line with the industry's stated reason for making the change—the appearance of a new figure type resulting from the use of modern foundation garments."

A home economist said this official gobbledegook merely means that while uplift brassieres have been expanding bosom sizes, modern girdles have been bringing hip measurements under better control.

Magicians in Annual Election Of Officers

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — L. A. Waterman of Harrisburg, Pa., is the new international president of the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Waterman succeeded out-going President Chauncey M. Sheridan of Don Mills, a suburb of Ontario, Canada, at the IBM's 29th annual convention which went into its last day today.

Three magicians from Ohio were elected to high offices by mail ballot, one of them a woman to hold the office of first international vice president for the first time in the history of the organization.

The new international vice president is Hazel M. Krock of Kenton, Ohio, who has been executive secretary and treasurer of the IBM for the past 25 years.

A Kenton, Ohio attorney, Thomas M. Dowd, was named treasurer, and Reeder C. Hutchinson, Defiance, Ohio was named second international vice president.

A. L. Baldwin, a doctor of Pittsburgh, Pa., was named international secretary.

Territorial vice presidents for states included William Hackman, Cleveland, O., for Ohio.

Record Panama Canal Traffic

BALBOA, Canal Zone (UP) — Commercial traffic through the Panama Canal set a record during the current fiscal year for the seond consecutive year, it was announced today.

As of the close of business Thursday, with 10 days to go before the fiscal year ends, 8,320 commercial ships had passed through the canal. The previous record, set last year, was 8,309 ships.

Governors Discussing Politics

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (UP) — The nation's governors buckled down to discussion of state problems today but national issues and politics appeared to be holding the center of the stage.

President Eisenhower's proposal for a joint federal - state "task force" to carve out areas in which the states should assume more functions now performed by the federal government drew mixed reaction.

Democrats generally spurned the idea advanced by Eisenhower Monday night. Most Republicans were enthusiastic but even the GOP governors refrained from promising any massive reversal of the trend toward greater power in federal government.

Gov. Earnest W. McFarland of Arizona, a Democrat, called the proposal "just another one of those studies. We've had lots of studies but nothing ever comes of them."

McKeldin Feels Similarly

Even Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, a Republican, said he is "convinced that nothing will be done about it."

The governors planned to hold a round table discussion of state government operations today.

Gov. Stephen L. McNichols of Colorado, a Democrat, predicted Monday that his party would nominate a new face not now visible on the national scene as its 1960 presidential candidate.

On the Republican side, Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said California Gov Goodwin J. Knight was all wrong about Knowland's chances for winning the governorship next year.

Education Also Discussed

Knight had said in effect that Knowland could not win if he does run and might split the California GOP so badly the state would be lost to the Democrats.

Education came in for conference discussion. Gov. Thomas B Stanley of Virginia attacked Eisenhower's federal school aid program as "totally unwarranted." Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr of South Carolina outlined his plan for a "pilot" school which would run year-round with one-fourth of the students on vacation during each quarter.

Other grousing over federal intervention in state functions was heard during the day in discussions on highway and school problems. But New Jersey Gov. Robert B Meyner told his colleagues "we have to give up some of our rights to get this tremendous job done."

Billy Graham Confident of Packing Stadium

NEW YORK (UP) — Billy Graham said Monday night he was confident his New York Crusade would pack Yankee Stadium July 20 despite the fact "some of the smart boys are giving 10-1 odds against it."

The 38-year-old evangelist told a Madison Square Garden audience of 18,300 that he would definitely end his crusade July 20 with a mammoth meeting in Yankee Stadium, which seats 67,000 persons.

"I have confidence that the Christian people of New York will come there and bring their unchurched friends," Graham said. He said he had heard that "the smart boys around town" were betting against him, but it didn't worry him.

Cowboy star Roy Rogers and his wife, Dale Evans, will appear at some of Graham's meetings over the long July 4th week end, the evangelist announced.

Roger Hull, chairman of the New York Crusade executive committee, said Graham will appear on two additional nationwide telecasts that will originate from Madison Square Garden July 6 and 13. The Yankee Stadium meeting will not be televised.

Refused Visa to China

NEW YORK (UP) — Mrs Eleanor Roosevelt said today she had asked for a visa to visit Communist China, but was turned down.

"I made application and was told that, as yet no newsman was permitted by our government to visit Communist China," Mrs. Roosevelt said in her column, My Day. The column is distributed by United Features Syndicate, Inc.

"I still hope that the State Department may find it possible to allow all correspondents who wish to gather news from this area of the world to go there if the Chinese will allow them to enter.

"I believe it might be easier to learn some things in China than in the Soviet Union. But I am anxious to go to the Soviet Union, too," she said. "Since I cannot now go to China, I hope that I will be able to visit the Soviet Union in the near future."

Romulo Points at Hungary Report

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the U.S., today said the U.N. report on Hungary has "laid bare to the world the type of colonialism that Soviet Russia has foisted on its satellites."

Addressing the 42nd annual convention of Kiwanis International, Romulo said the U.N. report and a recent Filipino law outlawing the Communist Party are "interrelated" and "both are danger signals the free world can ignore only at the risk of its own destruction."

The convention opened Sunday with an address by the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., and a message from President Eisenhower paying tribute to Kiwanians long demonstration of "the demanding responsibilities of citizenship."

Romulo said that "Soviet Russia has by a terroristic method of brutality and murder, suppressed the Hungarian people's spontaneous revolt against the Kremlin (and) has laid bare to the world the type of colonialism that Soviet Russia has foisted on its satellites."

"Force and treachery are ruthlessly used," he said. "It is cold-blooded and open..but in recent days there has been an attempt to show that was a thing of the past, that it was the Stalinist method, that under a so-called collective leadership, tyranny and brutality are out of vogue in Moscow.

"The UN report has destroyed that myth. Khrushchev and Bulganin have been indicted before the bar of world opinion as responsible for the atrocities in Hungary."

Nickerson Trial Under Way

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UP) — An Army missiles expert, compared to the late Gen. Billy Mitchell in his dedication to a cause, goes before a court martial today with the defense ready to "roll up our sleeves and fight it out."

"There will be no move for a continuance," said Ray H. Jenkins, civilian counsel for the defendant, Col. John C. Nickerson.

"We have worked diligently on the case and are as ready as we ever will be," said the colorful Tennessee lawyer who starred in the Army - McCarthy hearings. "We will go in there and roll up our sleeves and fight it out."

A court of 10 high Army officers, which could be whittled down by challenges, was convened to try Nickerson. He is charged with endangering national security in memos insisting the Army was best qualified to develop missiles of the intermediate 1,500-mile range.

The memos reached such "unauthorized" persons as columnist Drew Pearson and Erik Bergaust, editor of Rockets and Missiles Magazine.

The defense tactics were based on an attempt to show that Nickerson spilled no real secrets and that the missile program, on the other hand, would suffer unless the Army plays a big part in it.

Cultivated pearls are grown by the oyster, but under man's control.

Four Sailors Accused Of Brig Treatment

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — The Navy today considered a recommendation of general courts martial for four Navy enlisted men accused of mistreating prisoners at the sprawling naval air station brig here.

Capt. William S. Harris, commander of the air station, made the recommendation Monday for the unidentified sailors. He forwarded the recommendation to 6th Naval District Headquarters in Charleston, S.C., and authorities said it would be several days before a decision is made.

Harris also announced that on his recommendation four Marines who served as guards with the sailors at the brig had been ordered to stand special courts martial.

Harris made his recommendations after an investigation which he said revealed excessive calisthenics for prisoners in the brig and striking and pushing of prisoners.

He said two other Navy enlisted men, Benjamin W. McDaniel of Petaluma, Calif., and Lonnie M. Carver of Jacksonville, were ordered to appear before their commanding officer to answer charges they failed to report the mistreatment.

A separate investigation is underway, Harris said, into charges that a fifth Marine, Sgt. Lawrence D. Jennings of Garwin, Iowa, cuffed one prisoner so hard the inmate's ear drums were punctured.

Richard DeYoung, 18, Ingleside, Ill., a sailor who was a prisoner in the brig, touched off the investigation with his charges that Jennings struck him in the stomach and in the eye, then cuffed him on the side of the head, puncturing his ear drums, because a penny was found in DeYoung's pocket in violation of brig regulations.

The four Marines ordered to stand special courts martial were identified as Cpl. John E. Macanec Jr., Bedford, Ohio; Cpl. Ronald E. Clark, Liberty, Tex., and Pfc. Emil R. Curay, Drexel Hill, Pa., all on charges they mistreated prisoners, and Pfc. Claude E. Morgan of Memphis, Tenn., on charges he was derelict in failing to report the alleged mistreatment.

Israeli Nurse Is Killed by Syrian Gunfire

JERUSALEM, Israel (UP)—An Israeli nurse was shot and killed by Syrian gunfire Monday night and Israeli official sources accused Syria and Egypt today of trying to provoke Israel into retaliatory action.

The sources noted the almost daily attacks by Syrian forces on Israeli border settlements and the upsurge in raids by Arab marauders from the Gaza Strip during the past two days.

They said the increase in border incidents coincided with the attacks by Cairo radio on pro-Western Arab states for allegedly negotiating with Israel toward a solution of the Arab - Palestine refugee problem. An Israeli attack on either Egypt or Syria could heal the breach between the pro-leftist and the pro-Western Arab states, the sources said.

Hank Stohl to Present Exclusive Pinocchio Record

For the first time in history, Pinocchio is being played by a puppet. That's the word from Hank Stohl, host on a KDKA Radio children's show Sunday mornings from 8 to 9 p. m.

Hank has arranged for the exclusive, one-time-only broadcast of a new hour-long Decca recording of Pinocchio on Sunday, May 30. The "star" is Jerry Mahoney, whose boss is the talented ventriloquist, Paul Winchell.

This new recording has original music by Milton Delugg and Ira Wallach, and features a cast of talented actors. According to Stohl, Northern Music publishers have given KDKA first — and only — crack at broadcasting the new recording in the Tri-State Area.

Stohl credits the friendship of Charlie Klug, KDKA Producer, with Milt Gabler, Decca A&R man, with this rare favor. Hank was anxious to broadcast the record for his youthful listeners "because so many bad performances of Pinocchio have been recorded — few worth broadcasting."

'The Great Waltz' at Stadium Next Week

The most rhapsodic collection of waltzes and other lilting Viennese music by Johann Strauss, senior and junior, will fill Pitt Stadium beginning Monday evening, July 1, when the Civic Light Opera presents "The Great Waltz," starring Lois Hunt and featuring Terry Saunders and William Shirley.

Miss Hunt, pretty young soprano star returns this season in the role she portrayed at the stadium in 1955. Supporting the Metropolitan star are Terry Saunders, another favorite of former seasons in "Show Boat" and "Roberta," and William Shirley, singing star of stage, screen and television, playing the romantic male lead.

More than a million spectators saw this operetta when it was first produced at the Center Theatre in New York in 1934 and 1935, and it has been a perennial favorite since in musical theatres throughout the country. The libretto of "The Great Waltz" was written by Pulitzer Prize - winning Moss Hart, who adapted it from the Viennese original.

The story of "The Great Waltz" is about Johann Strauss's jealousy of his son's musical talent and incidentally relates the bitter-sweet romance between the junior Strauss and a baker's daughter.

Strauss, senior, refused to allow his son, even as a small child, to study the piano or violin. The young Johann's inherited talent and zeal for music were not to be thwarted, so he sought training secretly. Through a Russian countess's help, the young musician was given the opportunity to demonstrate his talents as composer and the acclaim he won only intensified the rivalry between father and son which reached its climax when the younger Strauss was crowned as Vienna's "Waltz King."

"The Great Waltz" is played against the picturesque backgrounds of nineteenth century Vienna of nostalgic memory. Furth Ullman, brilliant New York and Hollywood scenic designer, has created a spectacular new production for the musical.

George Lipton, playing the role of Strauss, senior, heads the huge cast, which also includes Walter Burke, Norman Roland, Jon Silo, and the corp de ballet with Paula Lloyd as premier danseuse and David Nilo as premier danseur. Choreographer is Edward Noll. Director Robert Gordon is staging the production and Karl Kritz is musical director, with William Wymetal as producer and managing director.

Third production at Pitt Stadium, July 8 through July 13, will be the Broadway musical comedy hit, "Pajama Game," starring John Raitt in the role he originated in the New York presentation, and featuring lovely Neile Adams of stage and screen fame with Patricia Marand.

Stevenson in African Tour

BRAZZAVILLE, French Equatorial Africa (UP)—Adlai Stevenson said Monday Dr. Albert Schweitzer is "gratified" by the worldwide reaction to his warnings on the dangers to humanity from atomic experiments.

Stevenson, who is on a tour of Africa visited the noted physician-philosopher-musician at his jungle hospital.

Schweitzer recorded an appeal for the end to nuclear weapons tests in April.

Stevenson said Schweitzer felt his views were not as widely publicized in the United States, Britain and France as elsewhere.

"But he feels that his declaration may have encouraged scientists to express their views more freely," Stevenson said.

Greensburg Trying Novel Parking Plan

Greensburg, Westmoreland County seat, is trying a novel on-street parking experiment that city fathers believe will alleviate congestion and speed traffic flow.

The "two-by-two" parking plan calls for two autos to park bumper-to-bumper. Behind the second car an eight-foot "free zone" is painted with yellow crosses. Cars may not park in the free zones. Between each free zone are parking spaces for two autos.

The free space is designed to allow motorists to pull in and out of parking spaces with a minimum o fdifficulty, thus speeding up the flow of traffic.

The idea was introduced by Councilman Joseph Rush, a service station operator. Rush said it was given to him by a customer who said it was being tried in California.

Mayor Andrew J. Hudock is backing the plan enthusiastically.

"We lose only two parking meters in each block," he said "I believe this is the answer to street parking in business areas and on streets that carry heavy traffic loads. This idea gives the new and longer cars a chance to pull in and out with ease."

The plan has been tried in only one block so far but it will be extended to other areas soon.

"We plan to purchase dual parking meters," Rush said. "These are 25 per cent cheaper than two single meters. This will be a saving of at least $10 a post.

Tropical Storm Is Boiling in Gulf of Campeche

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—A tropical disturbance was boiling in the Gulf of Campeche today and the Navy planned to dispatch a hurricane hunter plane to the area.

Lt (JG) E. J. Guazzo of Orange, N.J., public information spokesman for storm - scouting Squadron VW4, said a gulf shrimp boat crew gave the first information on the storm, which had winds up to 50 miles an hour with gusts to 60.

At latest report the disturbance was moving in a northwesterly direction at about 12 miles an fledged hurricane it would be the fledged hurricanet would be the first of the 1957 season, which opened 10 days ago, and would be dubbed Audrey.

County Milk Income $9,003,610 for 1956

Milk continued to play a leading role in Westmoreland County's economic picture during 1956 as figures released jointly by the Pennsylvania June Dairy Month committee and the Pennsylvania Bureau of Crop Reporting & Research showed a County dairy industry income of $9,003,610.

O. H. Hoffman Jr., general manager, Inter State Milk Producers Cooperative and honorary chairman of Pennsylvania June Dairy Month, in releasing the figures said:

"The role of the dairy industry continues to be two-fold as it contributes materially to the economic stability of our city and rural markets while preserving the health of our citizens through the production, processing and distribution of nature's most nearly perfect food.

"The importance of the dairy industry in our economy must be given equal consideration as that given to other vital industries such as steel, coal and manufacturing. Though ranked only 32nd in land area size, Pennsylvania continues as a leading dairy state with a national reputation of the highest level," Hoffman concluded.

The June Dairy Month committee pointed out that in Westmoreland County 24,500 cows were milked daily during 1956 for a milk production of 168,070,000 pounds valued at $7,849,000. This added to another estimated $1,154,610 paid daily plant employees created the $9,003,610 income.

Both Westmoreland County and Pennsylvania continued well ahead of the national average of $4.16 paid to the dairy farmer for 100 pounds of milk, with the Westmoreland County farmer receiving $4.67 per hundred and the Pennsylvania farmer $4.60.

Total milk production in Pennsylvania exceeded 6,546,000,000 pounds valued at $301,116,000, and received from a average milking of 946,000 cows.

Pennsylvania has eight of the first 100 counties in the United States in volume of whole milk sold from farms, with Lancaster County ranking 11th, Bradford 33rd, Chester 54th, Susquehanna 64th, Berks 70th, Wayne 92nd, Franklin 95th and Crawford 98th.

In addition the state ranked first nationally in ice cream production and consumption, second in number of all ice cream plants, fourth in producer-retailed milk, fourth in value of milk cows and heifers, fourth in cash income from dairy products, fifth in total milk production and seventh in cottage cheese production.

In Pennsylvania the State June Month committee numbers over 40 state-level organizations handling milk and milk products. N. E. Sampson, of the Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association, Pittsburgh, was 1956 state chairman.

Graduates Get Diplomas Minus Four Seniors

PAINTED POST, N.Y. (UP) — Fifty-eight heavy-hearted seniors accepted their diplomas from Painted Post High School Monday night mindful that there should have been four more among their number.

The four were not forgotten. Their names were called. Roland Leinhos, Jack Van Deventer, Stanley Bartlett, Richard Gumberts.

Only Gumberts will get his diploma. The other three are dead, victims of an automobile accident which claimed six lives and hospitalized Gumberts.

Classmates of the accident victims did their best to carry on as "the boys would have wanted it." But it was rough for these teenagers still feeling the shock of the worst tragedy to strike this community of 3,000 in 13 years.

The graduates observed a moment of silent prayer, and it was undoubtedly the most profound moment of the night.

After the graduation, congratulatory handshakes and hugs were stiff and awkward. Their smiles were forced.

The Leinhos youth, who was the class salutatorian, had his speech prepared prior to dying two days before he was to have delivered it. It was decided that his address should not be read by anyone else.

Navy to Begin Rocket Program

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy announced today it will begin the U.S. rocket program for the International Geophysical Year (IGY) next Monday with the first of a series of 14 rocket firings off the southern California coast.

The firings are scheduled to continue for the next two or three months.

Women Drivers In Pennsylvania Fewer in Number

HARRISBURG (UP)—Four out of 10 Pennsylvanians have a driving permit but only 20 per cent of the licenses are held by women, a Highways Department vehicle use survey disclosed today.

The survey interviewed 16,000 families in a cross section of Pennsylvania counties to gather data on road usage for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads. It showed that more than half of the licenses in the Commonwealth are possessed by males.

The survey disclosed that six out of 10 males in smaller communities have operators licenses while the proportion drops to just under 50 per cent in Philadelphia. The smaller communities, including rural areas, also have a higher proportion of women drivers to population than the major urban centers.

The department said 46 per cent of travel distance in passenger cars is concerned with earning a living, while 36 per cent is for social and recreational purposes and 16 per cent for family business. Only 5 per cent of travel was for shopping purposes.

Interest Returns Reach New High

HARRISBURG (UP) — State Treasurer Robert F. Kent today reported the purchase of $14,700,000 in U.S. Treasury bills listed to yield in excess of 3.37 per cent interest in 91 days.

Kent said the return was the highest rate so far recorded in the state treasury for this type of investment. Interest returns have varied from a low of .65 per cent to the present record high and have averaged about 2 per cent in recent years.

Three Hurt When Speedboat Explodes

MEADVILLE, Pa. (UP) — Two teenaged youths and a three-year-old boy were injured slightly Monday when a speedboat exploded at a dock in Conneaut Lake.

The youths, Ross Gadd, 17, and Robert Beck Jr., 16, were hurled from the 20-foot craft onto the dock. They pulled the child, Paul Adams, to safety as the boat was sinking. All are of Pittsburgh.

The boat, owned by George A. Jones, of Pittsburgh, was a total loss.

Court Rules Against Mailing of Obscenities

WASHINGTON (UP) — A high postal official predicted today the government will put additional promoters of dirty pictures and "party movies" out of business as a result of the Supreme Court's ruling on obscenity.

But Abe Goff, Post Office Department general counsel, promised the department will not become a "puritanical censor" or do "anything unreasonable."

The Supreme Court ruled for the first time Monday that the Constitution's free speech guarantee does not mean the right to mail or distribute obscenities. It upheld the constitutionality of the federal obscenity-in-the-mail statute and state laws of California and New York barring various forms of obscene matter.

Goff, terming the mail law ruling "gratifying," told the United Press it will make it easier to prosecute persons sending salacious matter through the mail. He said the law, dating back to 1872, has been attacked repeatedly through the years on constitutional grounds.

The court upheld the constitutionality of these laws:

—The federal obscenity statute which fixes a $5,000 fine, a 5-year jail term or both for mailing "obscene, lewd, lascivious or filthy publications."

—A California criminal law which bars the writing, publishing or selling of indecent papers or books.

—A New York law which allows a court to prevent distribution of obscene printed matter.

Discouraging Turnout

LONDON (UP) — Henry C. Wright, independent candidate in North Dorset for Parliament, conceded today that his political rally Monday night may have been a flop. The only ones who showed up were Wright, three reporters and the caretaker of the hall.

Author, Lecturer Says TV Is Good for Kids,

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) —Sunshine, oatmeal and rich old uncles aren't the only things good for growing kids. TV is, too.

At least that's the word from Mrs. Nora Kramer, author, lecturer and adviser to publishers in the field of children's books. Mrs. Kramer, a member of the children's book committee of the Child Study Assn. of America, feels TV stimulates reading and provides a healthy release for small fry.

"Anyone who says that TV is killing off reading among children is just uninformed," bristled Mrs. Kramer. "Studies on this thing have been made in libraries all over the country and they show just the opposite.

"Nature and science books are very big now among children and much of this impetus comes from TV shows. Biographies are in demand by children because of their exposure to hero-type adventure stories on TV. Shows like 'Disneyland' and 'Robin Hood' constantly stimulate reading.

Fairy Tales A Success

"Up until this past year, tales of fantasy were moving very slowly. But suddenly fairy tale books have become hugely successful. Why? Well, in the past year TV has turned to many fairy tales for its spectaculars."

Mrs. Kramer, who has three children and five grandchildren, brushes off those who decry violence in children's shows.

"I'm not a pussyfooter about this," she said. "I don't object to adventure stories with lots of action. Action provides a release for children. It does them a lot of good to get up and stomp around.

"They need this excitement within the bounds of good taste—by this, I mean without things like mutilation or the showing of blood in color. But I see nothing wrong with shooting in Western shows.

"There's no reason why parents should be afraid of sadness or human emotion in children's TV shows. There's no reason why parents should be afraid of showing death. We shouldn't shield our children from human experiences. They're much tougher than we think."

Improves Vocabulary

TV, said Mrs. Kramer, has proved a boon in other areas of child education. 'It's certainly improved the vocabulary of children," she said. "Words they may have read, but didn't quite understand are suddenly illuminated when these words are used on TV.

"And TV illuminates life itself for children. It fills in corners of their minds Quiz shows, I think, have done a wonderful job of stimulating children. When that little Robert Strom boy was on 'The $64,000 Question' I think many children identified themselves with him and became more curious about ideas."

However, Mrs. Kramer does have one big reservation about TV —she dislikes the attitude of many family - type situation comedy shows.

"They show the father or mother as fumbling idiots," she said. "They don't treat parents as warm human beings, but just look at them contemptuously. This type of show is far more of a danger than any shooting Western."

Ed Sullivan To Sub Tonight For Hal March

Ed Sullivan, star of his own Sunday night CBS Television program, will be the first of six to fill in for master of ceremonies Hal March during the latter's six-week leave of absence from the "$64,000 Question" to appear in a motion picture comedy.

Sullivan's appearance on the quiz program is scheduled for tonight (KDKA-TV, 10-10:30 p. m.)

As Hal March pointed out at the close of his last program — if a contestant should fail, Sullivan will be in the embarrassing position of awarding the consolation prize of an automobile which is a competitor of his Sunday night sponsor.

On the following Tuesday, July 2, the replacement will be actor Charlton Heston. Gene Kelly will quiz the contestants on July 9, and Celeste Holm is scheduled for July 16. The other two replacements will be announced shortly.

Old Treatment Revised For Injured Shoulder

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

The old, it seems, is still new.

With a few modifications, some doctors are now treating dislocated shoulders with a technique developed half a century ago. The method was seldom used during the last 50 years, but recently, two Ohio State University doctors revealed that they had improved upon the technique with good results.

Generally, correction of an anterior dislocation of the shoulder requires general anesthesia and must be done in a hospital.

An anterior dislocation means that the shoulder is pushed forward and the arm backward.

The procedure used by Drs. William S. Smith and Thomas J. Klug of the University's College of Medicine usually can be applied right in a doctor's office without any general anesthesia.

It is really a very simple method. All it requires is two five-pound weights, a sandbox, a mild pain reliever — and the patient's ability to relax.

In fact, its success is based primarily on good muscle relaxation.

First, the patient is given a mild pain-relieving drug which also produces relaxation and drowsiness. When relaxation is complete, he is placed face down on a table. The arm of the injured shoulder is permitted to hang over the side of the table.

The doctor then places a sandbag under the shoulder and both five-pound weights are attached to the forearm.

In many cases the pressure of the weights is enough to cause the shoulder to move back into place. If this does not occur within five minutes, the arm is allowed to move back and forth in a gentle pendulum movement.

If the muscles are sufficiently relaxed, this should correct the dislocation in about 10 to 15 minutes.

If it does not, I'm afraid it means using the conventional pressure method under a general anesthetic.

Supreme Court Upholds 'Anti-strip' Ordinance

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court upheld the validity of an "anti-strip tease" ordinance in Newark, N.J.

The city law, passed in 1955, in general forbids nudity, illusion of nudity and suggestive actions in public performances.

The court acted in a brief order based on its decisions today upholding the validity of the federal obscenity statute and the obscenity laws of California and New York.

Today's suit was started by operators of the Empire and Minsky's theaters, who filed a complaint in the Superior Court of New Jersey to bar enforcement of the ordinance. The Superior Court found the law unconstitutional but was reversed by the state Supreme Court last November.

The operators — Adams Newark Theater Co. and I. Hirst Enterprises, Inc. — argued that the ordinance infringed on their right of free speech and was framed in language unconstitutionally vauge

Rusty Draper Has Wallet Returned

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Singer Rusty Draper, popular recording star, probably had some anxious moments today when he looked for his paycheck for a week's work at a district night club.

Rusty's wallet, containing $20 in cash and a check for more than $1,000, was found in the Airport Theater at Greater Pittsburgh Airport Sunday night. He apparently had dropped it. County Aviation Director John B. Sweeney said he will see that Rusty Draper gets his money.

The United States has more than 60 million licensed automobile drivers.

Dean Moor Halts Kneeling in Church

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Dean N. R. H. Moor of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral advised his parishioners Sunday to sit during services in the summer months if they did not feel like standing or kneeling.

"Often during a hot day I do not kneel for prayers," he said. "This may be heresy, but I think the Lord will forgive me. If He doesn't, I'll have a lot of company."

The federal Civil Defense administration is charged with the responsibility of minimizing the effects of enemy attacks on persons and property.
